Relieve scalp irritations with Resinol

Eczema and dandruff are among the most frequent causes of baldness and too much care cannot be exercised in getting rid of them. The Resinol treatment is an easy method.

Shampoo with Resinol Soap, working the lather well into the roots of the hair. Rinse thoroughly and when wholly dry, spread the hair apart and gently rub into the scalp a little Resinol Ointment. If done carefully little ointment will get on the face. Ask your druggist for Resinol.

VANDENHECKE FOUND SLAYER OF 33 PERSONS GUILTY OF MURDER AND HIS WIFE EXECUTED

LAWRENCE, June 22.—Cyrille Vandennecke was found guilty of murder in the first degree by a jury in superior court here yesterday. The jury was out three hours. District Attorney William G. Clark announced that he would move for sentence next week.

Vandennecke was charged with the murder in August, 1918, of Gillian Schuremann of this city. Schuremann was found with two bullets in his body. Vandennecke after the shooting returned to Belgium, his native country, later going to Canada. He was arrested in Renfrew, Ont., last February.

The state charged that the shooting resulted from Vandennecke's alleged intimacy with Schuremann's wife. At the trial Mrs. Schuremann testified that she had gone to Philadelphia to live with Vandennecke because he had threatened to kill her if she refused. She returned to her husband later. Vandennecke, taking the stand in his own defense, said he had gone to Schuremann's home to get some clothing belonging to him, and Schuremann fired at him, one bullet wounding him in the leg. There followed a tussle the defendant testified, of which he had no recollection. He said that when his memory returned, he was on the high seas bound for Belgium.

MOSCOW, June 22.—(By the Associated Press).—Ivan Komarov, known as "the wolf of Moscow," convicted of murdering 33 persons since 1921, and his wife were executed Monday night by a firing squad.

Throughout his trial Komarov had affected bravado, but after his conviction he endeavored in every way to save his life. First he appealed for a new trial, and when this was denied he pleaded with the government for clemency.

Komarov was a former Moscow cabinet officer. He was arrested last month on a charge of having murdered 33 persons, 22 of the bodies of whom were found in the cellar of his house fired in 1922.

PETITION IS DENIED

Judge McKeon, of the probate court, has denied the petition for the framing of issues to be heard by a jury in the matter of the contested will of the late James M. McDermott, who left the major portion of his estate to Celia McDermott, a sister-in-law with whom he lived. Nieces and nephews contested the document, alleging lack of testamentary capacity and undue influence. Kevin and Molly and James H. Gilbride defended the will with John H. Conroy of Boston and James E. O'Donnell for the contestants.

clapped in its activities on account of a small appropriation. The raft, one of the features at the bath, which was built at a cost of approximately $200, according to the superintendent, was wrecked by the bathers yesterday afternoon, when it became overcrowded. The boards and the barrels used to support the affair separated and the swimmers were tossed into the water. As a result of this accident the swimmers from Boston were unable to give their diving stunts. New bathing suits and towels and a new boat have been added to the equipment at the bath. Yesterday were William Callahan, William Leppess, James Linton, Gustave Normandin and Charles McQuady. The guards had their hands full trying to keep the bathers out of the race course at the afternoon races and in the evening they met the same problem, in trying to clear a course for the Boston visitors.

Swimmers and spectators who had the privilege of witnessing the speed swimming demonstration presided by the visitors under the able supervision of Benjamin Lewis, were much pleased with the style and speed of the experts, as they seemingly flew through the water. The members of the Boston group were: Vernon Hartford, New England 50 yard dash champion; G. W. Gendey, New England outdoor diving champion; John Carney, Allen Dilling champion; Walter Waters, James Goodhue, and Benjamin Lewis. The women in the party were: Olive Holland, New England 220 yard dash champion; Mabel Chandler, Bertha Adair and Mildred Adair, Katherine McArdle and Ellen Lundgren.

The visitors opened their interesting program with a relay race, between two picked up combination girl and men teams. The race was held off with speed and precision by the swimmers, who showed the instant they hit the water, they were leaders in water sports. Then followed demonstrations of the breast, side, crawl, and butterfly strokes. The fancy water stunts were, too, rolling, bicycling, tumbling, sculling, double bar, Australian spinning top, marching, walking, spiral and the school of porpoises. The swimmers uncovered a few stunts never before shown in Lowell, judging from the cheering of the swimmers who crowded the beach, anxious to get a few of the latest stunts.

Methods of breaking a drowning person's hold and the carries to shore were demonstrated by the men and women in the party. Then followed a demonstration of resuscitation.

Crete Gas, Sourness and Pain.

How to Treat Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning, gas, bloating, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach and get as some believe to a lack of digestive juices. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food sourness causing disagreeable symptoms, which every stomach sufferer knows so well. Artificially secreted acids are not needed in such cases and they do real harm. Try baking soda, all digestive acids and instead get from any druggist a few ounces of liquid Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bismuth Magnesia (the powder or tablet form) never fluid or milky is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and is the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.—Adv.

of a board and a raft caused the cancellation of the diving program and general swimming followed the awarding of prizes to the afternoon winners.

Identity. There are a number of candidates, six or more and the mayor is very anxious to have an appointment ready as soon as possible. Mr. Hogan, who has resigned after 11 years of service, in order that he may devote his entire time to his insurance and real estate business, also is anxious to be relieved from his city duties and for this reason it is believed possible that a nomination will be forwarded to the city council next Tuesday night.

pointment of Mr. Donnelly the mayor was non-committal, but it was generally expressed about the building that the former commissioner was a likely choice. Of interest in connection with the resignation of Daniel E. Hogan is the fact that within a year and a half three members of the board of assessors have resigned, Albert J. Blazon, Jeremiah J. O'Sullivan, and now Mr. Hogan. This means that when Mr. Hogan's successor takes office an entirely new board will be in power, a situation that has not occurred in that office or any other municipal department for many years.

SALE OF XMAS SEALS NETS $25,000,000

SANTA BARBARA, Calif., June 23.—Fifty million contributions, totaling $25,000,000, have been made to the national state and local tuberculosis associations of this country in the last 15 years through the annual Christmas seal sales. Last December approximately eight million pounds contributed a total of $3,500,000 in the Christmas seal sale. These statements were made by Philip F. Jacobs, publicity director of the National Tuberculosis Association, before the meeting of that body here today.

Mr. Jacobs pointed out that while the average contribution of the community chest last year was $1.71, the average contribution in the Christmas seal is about 50c. This fact, he pointed out, indicates the democracy of these, Switzerland led with 31 students, a majority of whom were taking law courses. North and South America sent six students, England had 12, Greece 11, Bulgaria 15 and Japan 15, 12 of whom were studying philosophy.

It is very evidently an annual institution. Millions of people every year look forward to this opportunity to contribute to the fight against tuberculosis and for better health."

HEIDELBERG TO RECEIVE HELP

HEIDELBERG, June 22.—Faculty and students of Heidelberg University are rejoicing over the announcement that the institution will receive 50,000 English pounds from the estate of the late Dr. Mond, who founded one of the leading chemical houses in England and is the father of Sir Alfred Mond, who was a member of the Lloyd George cabinet. NEW PEARL VALUED AT $60,000
SYDNEY, N.S.W., June 22.—The discovery at Brokeno of a pearl of 102 grains, of double button shape, is reported by the chief pearling inspector of West Australia.

The pearl, which is valued at $60,000, surpasses the famous "Star of the West" which weighed 101 grains and was valued at $50,000.

GOATS FROM CHICAGO TO SAVE BABIES

CHICAGO, June 22.—The Greenfield mission in Labrador needs goats to supply milk to preserve infant life, and the herds of some Chicago millionaires are being assessed to meet the demand. Mrs. James A. Patton and Charles A. Stevens are among those who have contributed pure bred animals.

It has been said that the lives of 500,000 babies could be saved annually in the United States if the infants could have goats' milk, which comes nearest to mother's milk. Goats' milk sells at about 40 cents a quart, and even at this price it is hard to get.

RENEWS PLEA FOR WORLD COURT

Pres. Harding Declares it is
"the One and Only Existing Agency of Peace"

Delivers First Prepared Address of Western Trip at
St. Louis

Wants Court to Be Made
Self-Perpetuating — No
Connection With League

ST. LOUIS, June 22.—President Harding placed before the country last night a renewed plea for American adherence to the Permanent Court of International Justice "as the one and only existing 'agency of peace' to which we can safely subscribe without violating the basic principles of our national being."

difference," and proposed a reconstruction of the machinery of the international tribunal "to dispose conclusively of all other cited agencies of danger from the exercise of any influence whatsoever, either open or future, by the League of Nations or by any other organization."

"This could be done in one of two ways," he asserted. "First, by empowering the court itself to fill any vacancy arising from the death of a member or retirement for whatever cause, without interpolation from any other body; or, second, by continuing the existing authority of the Permanent Court of Arbitration to nominate and by transferring the power to elect from the council and assembly of the league to the remaining members of the court of justice."

Then anticipating "the voice of the doubter," who might inquire whether the 40 nations now represented in the court would consent to these changes in the structure of the tribunal, Mr. Harding answered that "to submit terms which we consider essential is not an act of discourtesy; it is the only fair, equitable and honorable thing a great, self-respecting nation can do."

The crux of the conditions suggested by the president described as "the making of the world court precisely what its name implies."

had been done by his administration to get the country "back on the right track" in its domestic affairs. Although declaring he did not come to make a "parade" of his record, he said he took pride in pointing out that unemployment had been "banished," financial stability restored, taxes lightened, and great economies effected in government.

Washington's farewell address was taken by the chief executive as his point of departure when he turned to foreign relations. American adhesion to the court, he said, squared with the principles enunciated by Washington, who recognized the value of international arbitration.

"It is with that high purpose in mind that I advocate participation by the United States in the Permanent Court of International Justice," continued Mr. Harding. "Two conditions may be considered indispensable:

"First, that the tribunal be so constituted as to appear and to be, in theory and practice, in form and in substance, beyond the shadow of doubt, a world court and not a league court."

"Second, that the United States shall occupy a place of perfect equality with every other power."

Elaborating upon his pronouncement, that the court must not be a league court, the executive asserted that the country had an opportunity to indicate its desire to join the league in 1920 and it "most emphatically refused" and "it would refuse again, no less decisively today."

AMUSEMENT NOTES

H. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

There may be more exciting pictures than "Westbound Limited," but they are few and far between, and there may be cooler places than the E. F. Keith theatre, but most of them are not around Lowell. The combination of a picture in this great picture and the cool theatre make an irresistible appeal to all who like comfort and the films. An Emory Johnson production, it entails the services of Ralph Lewis who is a splendid actor, and a long cast of people. The scenes pack along in rapid style, and one is continually held breathless by the succession of stirring scenes. It is a picture which deals with the life of the men who run the monster engines over the iron tracks, and although it is frankly a play much that occurs has without doubt taken place in real life. Performances will be given twelve daily for the remainder of the week, beginning at 2:15 and 8:15 o'clock.

THE STRAND

If you believe there are phases of high life in New York City that you know all about, then visit The Strand today or tomorrow and be enlightened on your error. See "Has the World Gone Mad?" and know something new and startling. Robert Edson and an all-star cast appears. The second feature is a story of the Northwest and its police. Such stories are always interesting. This one is especially so. Roy Stewart appears in the leading role.

MERRIMACK SQUARE

Only a few opportunities remain for Lowell people to see the noted juvenile star, Wesley Barry, in "Honey of the Street," the feature attraction at the Merrimack Square theatre. If you haven't seen this big production of modern life, make the most of your remaining opportunity. "Ten a Woman Love True" starring Ethel Clayton, is the second feature.

BAKERS' UNION REPRESENTATIVE
J. J. Leonard, New England representative for the Bakers' union was the principal speaker at the meetings of the Building Laborers' union and the Trades & Labor council, held in the Grosvenor building and Trades & Labor hall last evening. Mr. Leonard spoke along labor union lines and urged his listeners to patronize home industry, laying particular stress on union bake shops.

WOMEN HAVE TO SMILE

In a great many cases and try to make those around them happy, while they are racked with the pain of organic trouble. Few men realize how common such heresies are. The remedy for this condition is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—a simple remedy made from roots and herbs, which for 30 years has been saving the most unfortunate of women. Every woman suffering from female ills owes it to herself and family to give it a fair trial.—Adv.

CONGRESSMAN ROGERS ADDRESSES NORMAL SCHOOL GRADUATES AT COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES

Eighty-two young women received their diplomas from the State Normal school yesterday afternoon from the hands of Robert O. Small, director of the division of vocational education of the state department of education, and the majority of these young women will, at the beginning of the school year next September, become teachers in the public schools of this state. The principal address of the commencement exercises was given by Congressman John Jacob Rogers, who was introduced by the principal of the school, Clarence M. Weed.

The commencement exercises opened with the chorus "May Dance" led by Miss Inez Field Damon. Principal Weed then introduced Congressman Rogers, whose subject was "The Commonwealth of Massachusetts."

"It is a difficult profession you young ladies have chosen," said the speaker, "and I believe it is the second most difficult profession that any young woman may enter. Nursing, in my estimation, is the most difficult and teaching is the second most difficult and is, in some respects, more important than nursing."

"There is one thing that has always struck me in the task of the teacher and that is of always being sincere with the boys and girls in school. Take, for example, the events leading up to the war of 1812 with Great Britain. When this country was deciding whether or not to enter that war the leading men of Massachusetts, and most of the other New England states, were actually laying plans for the withdrawal of these states from the Union. The Hartford convention was held just for that purpose, and yet, in 1861, when the southern states planned on dissolving the Union, Massachusetts was one of the first to object to any state's secession and was the first to send troops in the Civil war. I cannot help contrasting the reception accorded the members of congress from this part of the country who voted in favor of the war in 1812 with those who voted in favor of this country's entrance in the World war in 1917. The men who voted in favor of the war of 1812 were literally tarred and feathered upon their arrival back in Massachusetts. I do not see any reason why we can't face these facts in history and I do not think they should be slighted. I do not think this war was a beautiful phase in our country's history yet I believe that it should be taught to the children exactly as it happened, for it was very remarkable that this little republic finally won the war.

"I think the generation of tomorrow should be taught the truth. I do not believe that a teacher who is not sincere will ever be a success. I believe that it is the best thing and the wisest course to teach the children the truth, and this applies to the history of the United States just as much as it does to any other subject you may teach."

"I attended a dinner in Washington recently that was, to my mind, one of the most extraordinary functions that I have ever heard of. A man, supposed to be one of the greatest scholars of all time, had come across the Atlantic at his own expense to speak on the importance of the classics in present-day education. It was extraordinary that a man should give of his own time and money to speak and tell of the advantages to be gained by a classical education. I do not want to be thought a reactionary, I realize that this is an age when there is a demand for things which immediately fit a person for business and industrial life. In a city, a county, and a state like ours we have a great industrial community that has not the means to go as far in education as might seem desirable. We must realize that and provide educational forces that will give as much as possible in the short time allowed them. I think you should teach that the things of the past are good things nowadays. We can still learn from the ancients, and although this thought is discouraging in one way, it is helpful in another, for it shows us that the labor of the mind and the hand still lives after 2500 years and the things that we create may also be of some use to the people of the future.

"There are only three primary bulwarks of society. You represent one of them. There is the school, the home, and the church. These three foundation stones are at the root of every organized and efficient and decent society. We have a good progressive country because we have a good school and a good church in the nation and we still regard the family life as the very essence of decent society. I have here in my hand a slip of paper that represents 100,000 Russian rubles. Before the war it was worth $50,000. I bought it for 10 cents and the man who sold it to me was a profiteer for it is not worth a cent except as a souvenir. When you read what this slip is trying to do today you find the reason for this slip of paper having no purchasing value at all. You find her trying to wipe out the church, the family and the school. She is not seeking to wipe out one foundation stone of civilization, but she is trying to wipe out all three and that is why this piece of paper is worth less than one cent. And the reason is as easily deduced in regard to the American $10 bill for this bill is an absolute promise to pay to the bearer ten dollars in gold. We know and the world knows that the United States is built on the three foundation stones of civilization and that it has kept those three intact."

"My thought of the teaching profession is not a light one. I think you are the foundation of the generation which is to come. But I think in spite of all the qualities you must possess, the most important thing in the equipment of the teacher is an appreciation of the fact that she is moulding all the time, even when she and the children are at play. She is moulding not only their thoughts and the degree of information that they are to retain, but is moulding the spiritual and the subconscious life, which makes the difference in the long run between success and failure. It is the quality which makes the young people of today dreamers in the best sense of the word, dreamers as opposed to visionaries."

"The congressman then recited the poem entitled, 'Dreamers of Dreams,' and then said in conclusion: 'You young ladies going forth under the banner of the commonwealth be always dreamers of dreams and help your children to know that there is something behind the world and personal in the individual. Remember your responsibilities, bear in mind the opportunities of life in our commonwealth, and accept from all of us assembled here today the most hearty goodspeed.'"

"Following Mr. Rogers' address, the Glee club sang two numbers, 'Woe Thou Sweet Music' and 'It Was a Lover and His Lass.'"

"Miss Mary Beatrice Devine, president of the class, then presented to the school the class gift, a garden seat for the tennis court. Mr. Weed accepted the gift and the Glee club sang another group, 'He Gave Me a Rose' and 'Dolly.'"

"Mr. Weed then introduced Robert O. Small to the students. Mr. Small spoke briefly on teaching before presenting the diplomas. He asked the teachers to remember two things and to believe them. The two were, 'have faith in democracy' and 'believe the boys and girls.'"

"The exercises closed with the singing of 'The Star Spangled Banner.'"

NEW YORK, June 22.—Randy Leonard left today for his camp near Tannersville, N. Y., in the Catskills, where he will train for the boat in which he will defend his world's lightweight title against Lew Toulson of Philadelphia at the Yankee Stadium, July 23. A dozen men were in his retinue.

DR. J. HENRY FAGAN

103 CENTRAL ST., OPP. STRAND THEATRE

Graduate of Philadelphia Dental College. Graduate of Fritz School of Anatomy. Years of experience.

ANNOUNCES

THE OPENING of one of the most modern, and up-to-date Dental offices in this city to be known as Dr. Fagan, the moderate price dentist. The office is located at 103 Central Street, opposite the Strand Theatre, and is one of the most handsomely equipped and brilliantly lighted dental parlors in this vicinity. No expense has been spared, thousands of dollars have been spent in opening this most up-to-date, sanitary dental parlor. With equipment of surpassing nature, Dr. Fagan will be in a position to render the very highest degree in efficiency in all branches of dentistry. Dr. J. Henry Fagan is of the newer generations of dentists who believe that you can't compete Twentieth Century with Nineteenth Century ideas. Dr. Fagan's aim is to give the people of Lowell and vicinity most modern sanitary dental service at most reasonable prices in an office equipped with practically every device known to modern dentistry.

Special attention is called to the most costly scientific and wonderful X-Ray department to be found only in the most exclusive dental offices.

With this X-Ray, Dr. Fagan is able to take radiograph pictures of your mouth which is the only Safe and Sure Diagnosis and positively tell and locate your trouble. With this method there is no guess work.

The Dentist no longer works in the dark and many teeth will now be saved where by the other method they had to be taken out.

Dr. Fagan thinks this department will be greatly appreciated by the people of Lowell, especially those who are and have been going to dentists for a long time without results.

Another costly addition to Dr. Fagan's office is the Violet Ray High Frequency Department. Another scientific addition is the much advertised SLEEP VAPOR DEPARTMENT (Nitrous oxide with oxygen).

Dr. Fagan has spent several years specializing in these branches and his capable work in the past has secured him extensive following. With his finely equipped new office and practicing in a faultless manner, the number of his patients will be greatly increased. Dr. Fagan is emphatic in his assurance to the public of the most satisfactory and pleasing results in all branches of Dentistry at most reasonable prices.

EXPERT EXTRACTION

We never advise extraction unless it is absolutely necessary, but when we do extract, we do it without one bit of pain. We use two methods to obtain this result. One is by Sleep Vapor (nitrous oxide and oxygen), the surest and best method in the world; the other is by means of our own preparation, applied to the gums. Either way means no pain for you. We do not charge an exorbitant figure for this work, either. No charge for painless extraction when other work is done. All work guaranteed.

Don't feel that you are putting me to any trouble because you come in for advice, or come to look the office over. My methods put me in a class entirely by myself. Come and look over my establishment and you will be compelled to admit this. And now having talked to you thus, I invite you to call for a Free Examination. It will repay you, for a few minutes' time, to learn the truth about the condition of your teeth.

COULD NOT SLEEP OR EAT FOR DAYS

WINCARNIS Was the Only Thing That Seemed to Do Mrs. Hueston Good

"Before taking Wincarnis, I was completely run down. My nerves were in an awful state. I also had indigestion so badly that gas would form around my heart, causing it to palpitate. I could neither eat nor sleep for days at a time. I took a small bottle of Wincarnis and it seemed to do me good. I bought a large one and within a week I began to feel much better. I started to sleep and eat much better, and my nerves quieted down. After taking three bottles, I felt better than I had for years. Wincarnis is certainly a wonderful tonic."

WAS SERIOUSLY INJURED

Eleven-Year-Old Girl Had Skull Fractured in Auto Accident

Janet Dawson, 11-year-old daughter of Mrs. Mary J. Dawson, of 6 Birch street, is in a critical condition at St. John's hospital, suffering from a fractured skull and internal injuries, as a result of an auto accident on the state highway near Tewksbury last night.

The little girl was riding with Edgar Greenwood, of 220 Fairmount st., Mrs. Greenwood and their three children. Mr. Greenwood attributed the accident to the glare of an approaching machine, the driver of which refused to move from the center of the road. Mr. Greenwood said he was forced to steer his Ford off the road into deep sand, and as he did this machine turned turtle.

The accident happened near the Bush homestead on the highway between Wamsott and Tewksbury center, and all the occupants were pinned underneath the car. The Dawson girl was the only one seriously injured and she was rushed to the hospital by Patrick Scully, a passing motorist.

Yacht Worth $25,000 Destroyed

NEW LONDON, Conn., June 22.—The power yacht Tawasi, owned by W. G. Cowles of Hartford, was destroyed by fire off the mouth of the Connecticut river late yesterday. A short circuit in the engine room was the cause of the fire. Mr. and Mrs. Cowles and Captain and Mrs. W. R. Wickham of Mattineck, N. Y., who were on the vessel, abandoned it after vain attempts to extinguish the flames, and put off in the yacht's tender which was picked up by a yacht owned by Warner Brother of Bridgeport. Those on board escaped only with the clothes they had on. All escaped injury, except Captain Wickham, who received slight burns on the hands and arms. The vessel is said to have been worth about $25,000.

Chelsea Bridge Closed After Fire

Street cars of the Boston Elevated and the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway have been rerouted through Everett. The damage is estimated at $10,000. The origin of the fire has not been ascertained.

NEW YORK STATE WET BY A CLOSE SHAVE

by N.E.A. Service
NEW YORK, June 22.—National events many times hinge on small things. Here's a story of an insignificant shave that figured in an event that has turned the country inside out—politically.

The bill repealing New York's state enforcement act was introduced by Assemblyman Louis Cuvillier of this city. He put it in early during the last session at Albany. And it was pigeonholed.

In the state senate the Donegan bill was introduced. It also called for a repeal of the Mullin-Gage law, the legislative name of the state enforcement act. On the final day of the session the Donegan bill was resurrected.

Ex-Barkeeper Missing

The senate O.K'd it. But because a former bartender was absent from his seat in the lower house the bill failed. New leaders were panic-stricken, and it was then that someone thought of the Cuvillier bill. A searching party determinedly set out to look for the missing ex-bartender. Luckily as the party hove in sight of the barbershop, the assemblyman was being powdered. He was rushed to the voting chamber, and his vote made the Cuvillier repealer possible—a vote that has started the nation talking, and has changed the aspect of the pending presidential campaign.

Cuvillier is confident the Volstead law is doomed.

Wants Temperance

"We will always have and we should have temperance. But we eventually will not have prohibition as it is today," he says.

"Our repeal has made it certain that prohibition will be the dominant issue of the next national campaign. I introduced my bill because I felt the time had come to modify the Volstead law, which is fanaticism, pure and simple.

"I am a Virginian and I have always been opposed to man-made laws eradicating nature's laws. That is what was done in putting over prohibition during the hysteria of war."

"Each state has a right to say what is intoxicating and what is not. The constitution is not a law but a chart to guide government."

CHURCH WILL OBSERVE ST. JOHN'S DAY

There will be no civil observance of St. John's day here next Sunday, but the day will not be allowed to pass unnoticed, for a special church service in observance of the feast will be conducted at St. Jean Baptist church in Merrimack street.

The service will be at 11 o'clock and in the form of a solemn high mass with sermon on the life of St. John by Rev. Antoine A. Amyot, O.M.I., as yet been one death reported due to the heat. There have been, however, many cases of suffering reported, especially in the crowded districts and if the rules of baby hygiene were followed by mothers much of this suffering could be avoided.

According to Miss McNevin, there are

Rev. J. E. Turcotte, O.M.I. as sub-deacon.
The choir, under the direction of R. B. Peplin, who will also preside at the organ, augmented for the occasion by members of St. Joseph's church choir, will render a special musical program.

LOWELL BABIES HAVE BEEN FORTUNATE

The babies of Lowell have been exceptionally fortunate during the very hot weather, according to Miss May C. McNevin, superintendent of the Lowell Guild, for out of the 1300 babies and children of pre-school age that come under their care, there has not been one death reported due to the heat. There have been, however, many cases of suffering reported, especially in the crowded districts and if the rules of baby hygiene were followed by mothers much of this suffering could be avoided.

According to Miss McNevin, there are five simple rules that will keep the baby comfortable and safe from illness during the hot weather. The first is, do not over-feed or over-dress the baby; the second, give it a bath frequently; the third, give it plenty of water; the fourth, find the coolest place for the baby and keep it there, covered with a netting so that flies and mosquitoes can not get at it; and the fifth, boil the milk which is to be fed the baby.

These rules are easy to follow, says Miss McNevin, but in some cases the mother of the baby refuses, for reasons unknown, to follow them. She has had several cases reported to her by the district nurses of babies swathed in heavy flannel, and the mother could not understand why the baby cried and fretted. In other houses it is reported that the babies are fed just as much on an extremely hot day as in the middle of winter and the parents wonder why the baby needs a doctor. In a few cases the nurses report that the baby is never bathed except when the nurse does the work.

The biggest grievance that the nurses have is that the babies are left without any netting at all over them to keep the disease-breeding flies and mosquitoes off them. This netting is very cheap and the nurses say that there is no reason why every baby is not protected by it.

In speaking of the work of the guild among the babies during the hot weather, Miss McNevin said that the guild is handicapped because there is no children's hospital or summer camp in this city where the children might be sent from the thickly settled tenement districts and she stated that until such a place is afforded the city, the best results in infant welfare can not be obtained, although Lowell's infant mortality is no higher than in many other textile cities.

CASE CONTINUED
The case of Miss D. Gray, charged with manslaughter in connection with the death of Lawrence Cummings at the corner of Westford and Wilder streets about three weeks ago, was continued in the district court this morning until July 6.

Conflicting Claims From
Union Leaders and Officials
of Telephone Company

BOSTON, June 22.—In the face of conflicting statements from union leaders and officials of the New England Telephone & Telegraph Co., the general public was in the dark today as to the probable outcome of the telephone operators' strike. The telephone operators throughout New England voted in favor of a strike cast by a majority of the participants in the strike referendum of the telephone operators' department of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.

Union heads after completing the count of the ballots late last night announced that 7333 of the approximately 12,000 operators in New England had voted, and that 55 per cent. of the ballots were in favor of a strike. They did not announce the standing of the vote as a whole but said that in the Boston Metropolitan district the strike was approved by a vote of 2154 to 410.

George H. Dresser, general manager of the company in a statement asserted that "in Greater Boston, less than 600 out of a total of about 6000 operators voted," adding:

"In a number of offices the great majority of the operators have signed papers expressing their determination to remain at their posts if a strike is called."

"Reports from other parts of our territory show that in a great majority of exchanges only a small minority of operators actually voted. We are advised that no vote was taken in any exchange in the extreme western part of Massachusetts. In Springfield, less than half the total force voted. In Worcester, only about 25 per cent. of the total force voted."

He said that "so far as we can ascertain, no vote was taken in New Hampshire except at Manchester and none in Vermont. He expressed the opinion that in Rhode Island, large number of the employees would remain loyal to the service."

The union statement said that the wage scale committee interpreted the "attack on the integrity of the Boston vote as further evidence of the campaign to destroy the operators' morale and that the company was attempting to intimidate the operators into submission."

The company will be notified by letter of the vote and the regional joint council of the union will meet here on Sunday to set a date for the strike, which is called to enforce demands for increased wages and a seven-hour day. The state board of conciliation and arbitration has begun conferences in the hope of averting a strike.

GENTLE TIP TO THE BEVERAGE DEALERS

Retail druggists are obliged to pay an annual tax of $6.00, and physicians, dentists and veterinary surgeons must pay an annual tax of $3.00.

According to plans the singers will attend the 9 o'clock mass at St. Joseph's church Sunday morning and immediately after the service will be conveyed in automobiles to the outing grounds. A varied list of sports will be carried out and at noon dinner will be served on the green. The arrangements are in charge of the director, Telephone 340.

Liner With Liquor Aboard Arrives were not consumed, were dumped overboard at the three-mile limit.

While ship's officers had been ordered by their line to "keep mum" it was understood at quarantine that action by American authorities might be expected when the captain presented himself at the custom house with his manifest.

Customs officials visited the Baltic's manifest and belief became stronger that no action in her case would be taken until the manifest was presented at the customs house.

Although treasury department officials have not announced details of their plan for seizure of the Berengaria's liquor, it is believed that it will take place at quarantine where the vessel is expected at noon.

The Baltic sailed from Liverpool on June 9, a day before the latest American dry ruling became effective. She hit a submerged wreck and returned for slight repairs. As she put out again for the United States after June 10, it is believed the new ruling applies also to her.

Officers on the ship confirmed reports that all foreign liners on their way now to the United States were carrying supplies for the homeward voyage.

Liner Reliance Bore Dry

The United American Liner Reliance, flying the Panama flag which also arrived from abroad today came in bone dry. She dumped what liquor her passengers could not drink before crossing the three-mile limit.

The Baltic reached her pier shortly after 11 o'clock, and Captain Roberts prepared to sign her manifest, after which he planned to visit the customs house.

It was learned that while the customs authorities intended to seize her sealed liquor, they did not plan to act until after Captain Roberts had applied to the United States Public Health Service for a permit to enter with liquor for medicinal purposes.

Ordered to Seize Liquor

After this permit has been issued the customs agents were under orders to seize all liquor in excess of medical requirements, whether in or out of seal.

This program also would be followed with the incoming Berengaria and other ships carrying liquor under seal for the return trip, it was indicated.

The Berengaria reached quarantine a little after 11 o'clock and, after a brief stop, during which her sealed liquor remained unopened, started for pier, where customs agents awaited her.

United States Attorney Hayward announced that he was ready to carry out any suggestions from the treasury department or department of justice with reference to the ships carrying liquor under seal.

Recognizes U. S. Authority

LONDON, June 22.—(By the Associated Press)—It is declared in well informed quarters here that the British government in no way challenges the authority of American officials to break their consular seals and confiscate the liquor aboard ships, it being recognized that the jurisdiction of the British government in the case of liquor or any other goods sealed at a British port, ceases once the three-mile limit is passed.

Here it's only June—everybody in Lowell knows that it's going to be as hot as Dutch love until September, and that suit has got to stand the strain and stand by you like a soldier!

That's why we say—don't send a boy on a man's errand—insist on good tailoring—yes—that's what you'll get here—but don't for the sake of a dollar carry around a tropical suit that we do not carry at any price.

Charged With Assaulting Officers

Women, Eva Korsak, grabbed a bottle and attacked him and Officer Cotter. Counsel objected to the use of the term "attacked."

Witness said that in the scuffle which ensued, several persons in the house gathered around him and Cotter, a woman lifting a baton and striking Cotter on the head, breaking his straw hat. The instrument also struck Cotter below the lip. Aldrich was hit on the head also, and again on the arms and hands with a screwdriver.

Officer Aldrich said he did not have a warrant to search the house in question. It was the downstairs tenement the officers wished to investigate. Asked what right he had to go into the upstairs apartment, he replied: "The right of any police officer endeavoring to get at a trap door downstairs for the purpose of confiscating illegal liquor."

Aldrich said that he stood near the doorway and that Cotter stood behind him on the stairway. The latter accompanied him, he said, "because the chauffeur always goes with us on a raid." He admitted, under cross-examination, that they were not raiding the upstairs tenement.

It was rather a busy time during the few minutes before the other officers, Bagley, Kilroy and McElroy, arrived on the scene.

"I didn't see him hit."

"Did the boy hit you?"

"Yes, he hit me with the baton."

"Didn't that boy go up to you when you were holding his mother and didn't you then strike him and knock him down?"

"No."

The witness stated that he saw the boy bleeding on the floor, but couldn't say that he or any of the other officers were responsible for his condition. He said the boy struck him with a baton. He could not state where one of the men got two black eyes, but saw Officer Bagley use a club on another of the male defendants. According to his best judgment, there were three officers in the room. He did not attempt to stop the clubbing, he said, because it was necessary even to the extent of killing for the sake of self-preservation.

"Didn't you know that when that woman grabbed a bottle threateningly, you were getting an unwelcome reception?"

"After she did it, yes."

"Didn't the woman have the bottle in her breast and didn't you make an attempt to get it?"

"No, sir."

"What did you go there for?"

"To get the key to the trap door downstairs."

Sergeant Cotter was the second government witness. He said he was asked to remain at the door down stairs. When Aldrich hollered, he went upstairs and was greeted at the door by a smash in the face, which temporarily stunned him. One of the women had a bottle in her hand. Somebody, he couldn't state who, struck him beneath the lower lip and he went "out." "It was quite a scuffle," he admitted.

In reply to a question by counsel for the defense, Cotter answered that his appearance in the house was in response to a cry of "Help!" He said he saw Aldrich apparently fall through the door. He did not see anyone strike the latter.

At this juncture, the court adjourned until 2 o'clock.

SOFT COAL INDUSTRY

Plans for formation and Maintenance of Nationwide "Minute Man" Organization

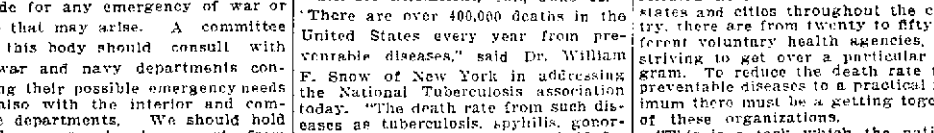

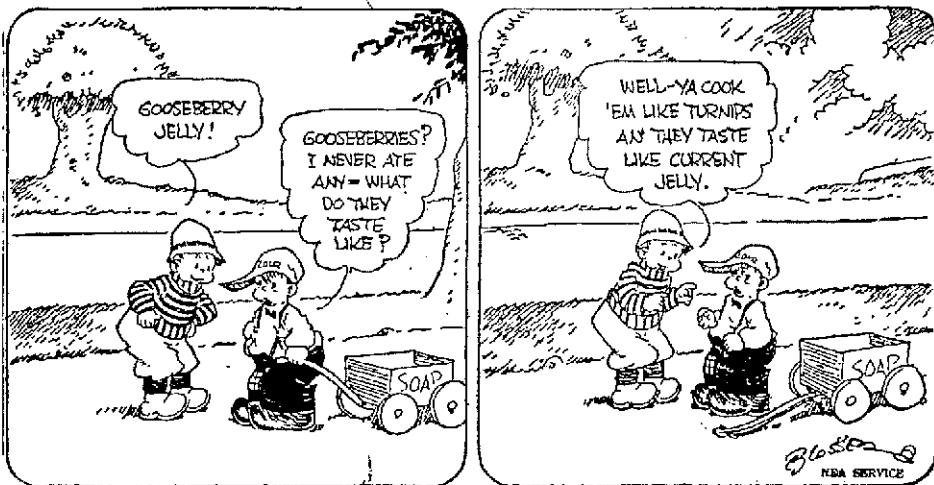

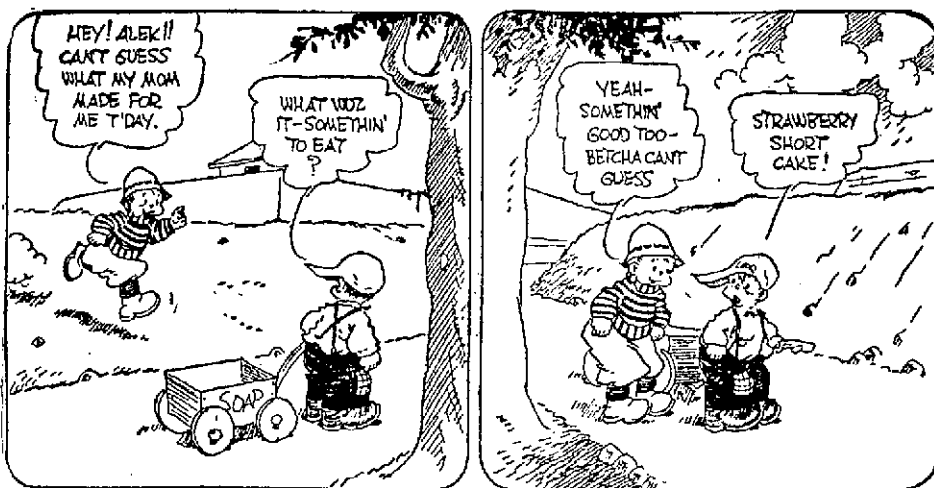

ATLANTIC CITY, June 22.—Plans for the formation and maintenance of a nationwide "minute-man" organization in the bituminous coal industry, making the entire soft coal resources of the United States instantly available to the government in any fuel emergency of war or peace, were advanced in an inaugural address here today by John C. Brydon, of Somerset, Pa., newly elected president of the National Coal association.

Mr. Brydon declared the plan he had in mind, if accepted by the government, would "divulge any previously unsolicited effort of an industry to serve the nation unselfishly and be a virtual guarantee of regular soft coal supply at fair prices to the public in crises."

The plan includes appointment by the industry of regional, district and sub-district key men, to serve as a volunteer fuel administration at need, co-operating with the war and navy departments in case of war and the interior and commerce departments in peace emergencies. Only an enabling act at the time of the crisis would be needed, the speaker said, to swing the machinery into functioning. He recommended appointment of a special committee to work out details of the plan with the government.

"The National Coal association, organized for the purpose of aiding our country in winning the war," Mr. Brydon said, "has at all times endeavored to assist the government in its dealings with the coal industry. It now seems highly desirable that this national body should offer to the government the expert knowledge which it alone possesses, and which is required to produce and effectively distribute coal, for the purpose of working out in advance a nation-wide plan to be effective when an emergency arises and which could instantly place Already very definite steps have been taken in this direction by the national committee for Mental Hygiene, National Organization for Public Health, Nursing, National Tuberculosis association, American Public Health association, American Red Cross Conference of State and Provincial Health Authorities of North America, Council on Health and Public Instruction of the American Society for the Control of Cancer and a number of other associated national agencies."

RUMANIAN CAPITAL MAY BE MOVED

stadt, a city in Transylvania, 160 miles northwest of Bucharest, is being considered as the new capital of Greater Rumania. For a long time many Rumanians have felt that the enormously increased frontiers of the country demanded a capital nearer the Western states of Europe than Bucharest. They want to make of Hermannstadt, which in Rumanian is called Sibiu, a sort of "executive Washington." Hermannstadt was founded in the 12th century, and has been splendidly developed by the Austrians. It is thoroughly modern, and has a series of fine public squares, parks, schools, churches, libraries and theatres. It is much cleaner than any of the cities of Old Rumania and has a much more healthful climate.

at the disposal of the nation its coal resources properly distributed.

"I therefore recommend that the National Coal association prepare, with the co-operation of the government and of transportation, a plan so comprehensive and detailed that it will provide for any emergency of war or peace that may arise. A committee from this body should consult with the war and navy departments concerning their possible emergency needs and also with the interior and commerce departments. We should hold ourselves responsive to requests from any of the departments.

"This plan should include the personnel, so that when an emergency does arise they may go individually and collectively to their pre-arranged posts and begin to function. It should be so comprehensive that it would not only apply to the central organization at government headquarters but to the remotest coal-producing districts in the United States. Such a plan would need only an act of congress to legalize it at the time the emergency arises. Once accepted by the government, it would rival any previously unsolicited effort of an industry to serve the nation unselfishly and be a virtual guarantee of regular soft coal supply at fair prices to the public in crises."

400,000 DIE FROM PREVENTABLE DISEASES

SANTA BARBARA, Cal., June 22.—There are over 400,000 deaths in the United States every year from preventable diseases," said Dr. William F. Snow of New York in addressing the National Tuberculosis association today. "The death rate from such diseases as tuberculosis, syphilis, gonorrhea, infantile diarrhoea, typhoid fever and others have declined, largely as a result of the application of scientific knowledge and community organization. The next forward step in further life saving in this country must come through more effective coordination of existing health agencies."

"In addition to the officially constituted health officers in various states and cities throughout the country, there are from twenty to fifty different voluntary health agencies, each striving to get over a particular program. To reduce the death rate from preventable diseases to a practical minimum there must be a getting together of these organizations.

Woman Gets Surprise of Her Life

After Years of Stomach Trouble Dreco Gives Her Health

"I had the surprise of my life," says Mrs. E. J. Hunter, "and I had only taken a half bottle of DRECO."

"For years before taking DRECO I could scarcely eat without suffering the most intense pains afterward."

"Although I am not a young woman DRECO soon vanquished my trouble, and I now have a good appetite and can eat anything without suffering from indigestion afterward."

"Anyone suffering from indigestion should take DRECO."

People who are rundown, tired out, debilitated, no matter what the cause, are advised to try this little test. Get from any well stocked drug store a bottle of DRECO. Take a spoonful with each meal for a few days and watch how the change works through the whole body. The appetite increases, everything you eat seems to taste better, there is no dyspepsia or gas after meals. The bowels, kidneys, stomach work in harmony and the rich, red blood goes coursing through the veins. This is what hundreds of men and women of this section say DRECO has done for them. Isn't it reasonable to expect it to do the same for you?

Call today at Green's Drug Store and see the expert from the Dreco Laboratories. He will gladly tell you of the merits of this wonderful remedy. Also he will tell you whether or not he thinks Dreco will benefit you. See Him.

Dreco is also sold in Nashua by the Nashua Pharmacy Co., 175 Main Street.

STRAWBERRY FESTIVAL AND ENTERTAINMENT

A strawberry festival and entertainment was held last evening in the vestry of the Central Baptist church under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid society, several hundred being in attendance.

The hall was prettily decorated with yellow and white streamers and the candy and berry booths were also prettily adorned. The supper was served at 6.15 o'clock under the direction of Mrs. Walter A. Chase. A comedy, "Twelve Old Maids," was presented by members of the Philathea class under the direction of Mrs. Woodbury. The supper committee comprised Mrs. Walter A. Chase, Mrs. Jattle Wiggins, Mrs. Ernest Phillips, Mrs. Gertrude Houston, Mrs. Clara Hickey, Mrs. Hendamin Beale, Mrs. Carrie Upham, Mrs. George Cross, Mrs. J. Guild, Mrs. Aida Perkins, Mrs. A. Two Series of Earth Shocks

WASHINGTON, June 22.—Two series of earth shocks were registered during the night on the seismograph of Georgetown university here. The first, Father Tondorf, director of the observatory said, began at 11.05 p. m., and lasted 20 minutes. It was of slight intensity. The second, which began at 2.12 a. m., continued for two hours and 18 minutes and was of a pronounced character. Its location was estimated at 6000 miles from Washington. *

Russia to Boycott Switzerland

MOSCOW, June 22.—As a result of the assassination of Vaslav Vorovsky, soviet representative at the Lausanne peace conference, Russia has decided to boycott Switzerland. A decree of the council of commissars, to be published today, instructs Russian plenipotentiaries and consuls abroad to refuse visas to Swiss subjects except workers, desiring to enter Russia. All business deals with the Swiss are to be cancelled and the initiation of new commercial negotiations is forbidden.

Janseuse has appeared at Merrimack Park although she has danced in most of the larger and better cabaret palaces and dance emporiums in New York and other large cities.

Miss Gilrairie and her company of clever dancers will present several different and odd dancing specialties, going from the old fashioned gavotte to the jazzler, peppier dances of today.

Miss Gilrairie and her company have just finished a very successful engagement at the Pemberton Inn in Hull, where they were one of the big features and it was only by the expenditure of much time and money that the management of Merrimack Park were able to procure their services.

YANKEES OFFER BIG SUM FOR CATCHER BRUGGY

By N. E. A. Service
PHILADELPHIA, June 22.—Dame Fortune smiles blandly on some ball players while others merely draw an unkindly frown.

The new major league rule that no players can be bought after June 15 has made apparent such a situation. This rule was made to prevent clubs from buying star players at the fog end of the race, when the addition of a certain player would just about clinch a pennant.

The two New York clubs for years have adopted such a policy. The Giants inaugurated it, and the Yankees to keep in step had to follow in McGraw's footsteps. This is no longer possible.

Recently in an effort to bolster his club McGraw secured Hank Gowdy and Pitcher Watson from Boston. That was a great break for Gowdy, a player on whom the Braves asked waivers from the Yankees. It meant that Hank had a chance to share in a fat World Series melon.

Then there is the case of Johnny Rawlings and Leo Meadows. Rawlings refused to report to the Phillies when sold by the Giants. There was little incentive to play for the tail-end club, and when Leo comes along, and trades the pair from a club certain to hold down the cellar berth.

On the other hand Frank Bruegy, second-string catcher of the Athletics,

Kinks of the Links

The opponent plays his brassie straight down the fairway and it rolls to the edge of the creek and into the water. The water is about two feet deep and running fast. Before the ball can get to the place where it will be dropped into the water the cull has carried the ball down stream toward the hole. The ball is recovered about 50 feet from where it went into the water. Should this ball be played from where it went into the creek or should it be played from where it was taken out?

1. The first step is to identify the problem. This involves understanding the current situation and the goals that need to be achieved.

WILL CAPTAIN "IN AND OUT" CLUB TEAMS

Walter Draper and William Lewine were selected to captain the two teams comprising the "A" and "Our" club of the Headquarters Detachment and Combat Train of the 102 Field Artillery, formed at a meeting following the regular drill of the men at the state armory on Westford street last evening. The club has been formed with the idea of getting the men of the company interested in recruiting new men.

The teams are made up as follows: Capt. Walter Draper, Maurice Mul-lano, John Dennett and Donald Gordon.

Capt. William Lemire, Frank Carroll, William McKenzie and Armand Menseau.

Members will drop off teams as they secure new men, and in addition will have the privilege of naming their successor, so that the personnel of the team will not decrease. Under the new organization the quota of the headquarters detachment is expected to be fixed in a short time.

ELEVEN ENTRIES FOR JULY BALLOON RACE

INDIANAPOLIS, June 32,—(By the Associated Press)—Eleven pilots have signified their intention of competing in the national balloon race, which starts here July 4, according to Blaine

Stock Exchange Ex-

McGrath, promotion director of the Indianapolis "chamber of commerce, under whose auspices the race will be held. There probably will be one or two added starters, Mr. McGrath believes.

With the annual 500-mile automobile race out of the way, motorists have been preparing for the Indianapolis which will be started from the Indianapolis Motor Speedway. Gas mains already are installed and other arrangements are progressing rapidly.

The entries, which include a number of soldier balloonists, are as follows:

Roy F. Donaldson, pilot, and P. A. Erbach, alder, both of Springfield, Ill.; Lieut. James B. Jordan, scout sergeant, 1st Cavalry, Fort Sheridan, near Chicago; and Capt. Fred

H. A. pilot, and Max F. Stoyen, Akron, O., aide; Capt. Lester T. Miller, pilot, and Lieut. Courland M. Brown, aide, both of Scott Field III; Lieut. Robert S. Olmstead, war department, Washington, pilot, and Lieut. John W. Shopraw, Washington, aide; Ralph Upson, Aircraft Development Corporation, Detroit, Mich., pilot, and C. G.

Puzzling Plays
By Billy Evans

The Play

The pitcher is standing in his position on the rubber with the ball in his possession. There is a runner on third, who makes a break for home the minute the pitcher steps on the rubber. The pitcher, while on the rubber, without preliminary windup, delivers the ball to the catcher to catch the runner stealing home. It is a perfect pitch, with little or no speed on the ball, and the batter objects to swing at it. He hits the ball over the left field fence. Has the batter such a right? If not, who is out?

If the pitcher stepped on the rubber without the ball in his possession, and the runner on third started for home, only to be thrown out by the first baseman, who had hidden the ball, would such a play be legal?

The Interpretation

If the pitcher remained on the rubber while delivering the ball to the catcher in an effort to get the runner at the plate, such delivery constituted a legal pitch, and the batsman had a right to swing at it. His home run was legal, both runners scored, and no one could be out.

If the pitcher got on the rubber without the ball in his possession, he committed a balk. The runner on third was entitled to score on the play. The act of the first baseman, who had hidden the ball, and then thrown out the runner at the plate, was not legal. Instead, the run scored on the balk.

DIZZY SPELLS AND HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE

Dizzy Spells, Headache, Sleeplessness, Pains in the Head, and Nervousness Indicate Dangerous Condition

Norma is the name of a purely vegetable medicine that is in great demand because it does reduce high blood pressure.

Discovered by a leading Buffalo physician and successfully used ten years, it has only recently been offered to the public through the better class of druggists.

Thousands have high blood pressure and don't know it, but the symptoms are plain, and any man or woman who has dizzy spells, shortness of breath, hot flashes and does not sleep well, probably has it.

High blood pressure is also indicated by nervousness, lack of appetite, a restlessness and sometimes uneasy feeling. Such people Norma will help and one bottle will prove it.

Many women in the changing time of life have found it the only remedy that reduces to normal the high pressure and is really helpful.

A. W. Down & Co., and reliable druggists everywhere sell Norma.

DISCUSS REFERENDUM ON TAX LAW

(Special to The Sun)
BOSTON, June 22.—Talk of starting a referendum measure on the law passed by the last legislature, which provides that the tax commissioner and his assistants shall not disclose to anyone excepting tax payers or agents what tax returns are paid, have filled the air at the state house the past few days. Persons seeking referendum information have been informed that there was an emergency preamble attached to the measure, which makes it a law when signed by the governor and removes it from the referendum class.

The new law removes from the old law the provision that returns may be cited into court by judicial order. Already there have been many cases where the new law has caused much discussion. In Fall River there are 52 court cases in which the inability to see the tax returns of corporations are collateral features of the cases. In view of the widespread interest in this new law, Tax Commissioner Henry F. Long, who fought for the passage of the measure today issues this statement:

From August 1st, 1903, until the codification of the General Laws of the Commonwealth which became effective January 2, 1921, all tax returns filed in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts were open only to the inspection of those connected with the tax department and then only for the purpose of assessing or collecting the taxes. In order that all may be taxed fairly and in proportion to their ability to contribute to government, the Commonwealth asks that every one subject to a tax make a full and complete return of all their taxable property. In return for this full and complete statement the Commonwealth assures the taxpayer of the secrecy of his return, as disclosure of such returns would seem to be contrary to public policy. The interest of persons compelled under the tax laws to furnish information as to their private business affairs would be seriously affected if the disclosures so made were not properly guarded.

It is doubtful if at the time the law was codified the General Court had any real intention of removing the protection before given to tax returns for certain tax returns filed by corporations were given the protection of secrecy. For no apparent reason foreign and domestic business corporation returns were not so protected.

Under the law as it stood from January 1, 1921, until May 17, 1923, the tax returns of foreign and domestic business corporations were subject to a court order in any case which might properly be before the court but which, however, might not have anything whatever to do with the assessing or the collection of taxes.

The individual surely does not wish to have his income tax return open for public inspection and the present law subjects his return to exposure only in an action to assess or collect the tax based on the return. Under the old law on collateral matter the return might be entered as evidence and published. The present law prevents this. It is doubtful if the comment, and the second measure is based on the actual value of the assets and liabilities of the corporation as of April 1st of the year in which the tax is paid. The exposure of these returns for any purpose other than the purposes for which the return is made is surely not in line with the practice of the Commonwealth. In many instances the exposing of these figures would be ruinous to the corporation. As a matter of policy the Commonwealth cannot well ask its citizens to make a full and complete disclosure of their financial ability to contribute to the support of government unless the Commonwealth in return insures to its citizens the complete secrecy of their statements. The citizens are clearly entitled to protection from the annoyance and even disaster which might result from the public exposure of their tax returns.

EXHIBIT OF DRAWINGS AND PAINTINGS

A splendid exhibit of drawings and paintings was held in the high school yesterday afternoon, illustrative of the work accomplished by the high school pupils during the past year under the direction of Miss Georgia Blaisdell, supervisor of drawing. The various phases represented were pencil work, light and shaded; coloring, designs, posters, school paper headings, pastel and color work, pen and ink drawings, stencils, place cards, table favors, silhouettes and book covers. There was also a display of curtains and table runners, which had been hemstitched in the home economics department and upon which a floral design had been stenciled by the drawing classes. Other types of work by the art department were also shown, such as paper flowers, paper flower baskets and reed baskets. The water color work was especially well done, and some splendid pieces of colored pottery and vases were shown.

Stippling, designs for book covers, architectural relief work and illustrations on exhibition were a credit to the pupils.

FUND DRIVE FOR BOY SCOUT ACTIVITIES

Scout Executive Edwin J. Mellen of the Lowell Boy Scouts announced this morning that the campaign to raise $7200 to carry on activities of the organization for the ensuing year was progressing in a manner that indicated success. "Donations varying from $1 to $100 are being received daily from corporations, individuals and lodges," said Mr. Mellen, who is much pleased with the response on the part of Lowell people interested in the scout movement.

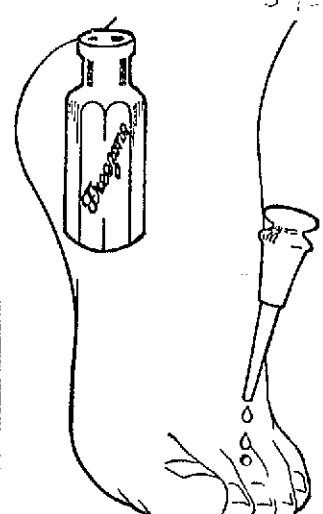

Donors of one dollar or more are given an associate membership in the scout movement and their names will be carried on the membership rolls, and from time to time they will receive statements in regard to activities and how the money being raised is expended. The committee in charge of the campaign headed by Dr. John H. Lambert is planning to wind up the drive by June 20. Success in raising the $7200 will insure the carrying out of organization plans the holding of rallies, hikes and the maintenance of the summer camp. The committee assisting are: Frank Proctor, Royal P. White, Benjamin Pomeroy, C. F. Langley, and Robert F. Marden.

The committee in charge of selecting a site for the scout camp has practically made its choice from a long list of submitted offerings. The field has narrowed down to two sites and the scout executive stated that a choice would probably be made tonight. No information could be obtained as to their location.

The personnel of troop 23 of the Bartlett school was completed last evening with the appointment of Joseph Dunn, instructor at the school and prominent baseball player as company with Colonel Edward L. Munson, United States army. General Wood in his communication says:

"I have always been very much concerned about the economic development of these people. In the course of 2000 years they have been able to reclaim from their mountains a limited area of land to which water can be brought. In past years feudal strife between settlements and tribes, as well as a very high death rate, retarded undue increase in population."

"However with the restoration of law and order and the development of hygiene, sanitation, services of hospitals and doctors, the population has been continually increasing without a corresponding increase of arable land. At present the mass of the population is engaged in a desperate struggle for bare existence. In the majority of districts there is not sufficient rice and the people eke out a very meagre existence with sweet potatoes. They lack clothing, proper shelter, salt and the tools necessary in their labor. I am informed that prices for necessities in the stores throughout the Mountain Province average from 200 to 1000 per cent above those that prevail in the nearby lowlands."

The governor general recommends that means of promoting trade between the mountain people and the inhabitants of the lowlands be created and that inter-communication be encouraged.

CROWDS AT GOTHENBURG FAIR
GOTHENBURG, Sweden, June 22.—(By the Associated Press)—Fifty thousand visitors a day, many of them from far corners of the globe, are seeing the Jubilee Exposition in Gothenburg.

What impressed the visitors most, aside from the architectural beauty of the exposition buildings, is the iron, steel and machinery section of the Export exhibition. Never before at any fair has the story of steel in all its various aspects been so graphically represented. From the mining of the ore, represented in an artificial mine, through the various processes of steel making, and into such typical Swedish manufactures as ball bearings, nut-crometers, fine cutlery, cream separators, turbines, oil motors, artillery, etc., the story is illustrated with great vividness.

Mr. Bingham's views on betting are entirely at variance with those expressed by the majority of the spokesmen of various religious bodies that have appeared before the committee.

LONDON, June 22.—(By the Associated Press)—The special committee appointed to help the government decide whether it will pay to tax betting, held another public sitting recently and examined several police officials. Their testimony was against it.

Mr. Caldwell, police superintendent of Liverpool, said the betting law was very difficult to enforce and very unpopular. Its inconsistencies and loopholes were so numerous that in practice it amounted to one law for the well-to-do, who could bet on credit without incurring any risk of getting fined or imprisoned, and another for the poor who, because of their poverty, had to confine themselves to ready money betting which meant street betting and were liable to get in trouble if they were caught out. In Liverpool $10,000 a year was spent in efforts to enforce the law against betting, and the result had been a total failure.

Theror Bingham, assistant commissioner of the metropolitan police, said a striking development of late years had been the increase of betting among women of the poorer classes. London was so riddled with betting that to deal with it effectively would require a very much larger number of police than could be made available without prohibitive expenditure. The police felt, he said, that even if the repressive law were re-enacted in a clear and more drastic form it was almost certain, having regard to the strength and extent of the taste for betting, that some means of evading it on a large scale always would be found.

Mr. Bingham's views on betting are entirely at variance with those expressed by the majority of the spokesmen of various religious bodies that have appeared before the committee.

How To SLEEP 3-IN-A-BED

YES, IT CAN be done—but not like this.

The trouble is, most people go to bed with "something" on the mind—ON THE STOMACH!

The answer is, no matter what the day has brought forth to upset your mind and digestive organs, take Beecham's Pills when you retire.

Though in no sense a "sleeping potion," this 80-years-famous household medicine so harmonizes the system that you can sleep in quiet and perfect rest, even in two feet of bed space.

Beecham's Pills are as efficient and harmless for children as for adults—sweetening the stomach, invigorating digestion and stirring liver and bowels to natural activity.

Mary has rosy cheeks now too

Mother says it's good for me
Because it's bran and all, you see.
I'll eat this bowlful, then another,
So I will grow as big as mother.

Mapl-Flake is a whole wheat flake with all the bran left in it. Not too much bran—why, you'd never know it's there unless we told you! But enough roughage to "sweep" the digestive tract—a natural regulator such as Mother Nature intended us to take.

No wonder Mary has rosy cheeks. In addition to the bran, she gets a well balanced, appetizing food. This whole wheat flake is rich in life-giving vitamins—it not only stimulates the appetite but furnishes fuel to feed it.

Mapl-Flake is food—far better than medicine. Be a "Mapl-Flaker," forget about "taking bran" as a duty—eat it in Mapl-Flake as a pleasure.

GIBBONS HAS LONGER REACH THAN DEMPSEY

SHELBY, Mont., June 22.—Tom Gibbons will have the advantage in reach on Jack Dempsey when they battle here July Fourth.

Gibbons' arms 74 inches. Dempsey's span is 73 inches—an inch less. If Gibbons' arms were straight he would have a 75-inch spread easily. But both of the St. Paul challenger's levers are bent in. This is due to the hooking, he has done during his ten years active work in the ring.

Due to this Gibbons hits just a little different from the trim-armed Dempsey. All the concussion from the champion's socks goes right back into the socket joints. When Gibbons connects he gives the boxer a shock that is felt in the bones of the arm.

Jack Daw's Adventures. Chapter 6

Just a short distance away stood a very large leopard and it seemed just about ready to pounce on Jack. Of course the little adventurer was very frightened and he scrambled up a tree, near the tripod, as fast as he could. His pet dog, Flip, stood by this tree and barked loudly.

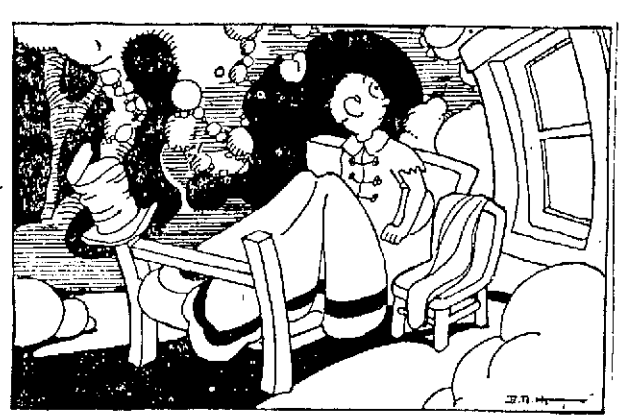

Jack managed to climb out on a limb to safety but he was afraid the leopard would hurt Flip. "Run away, Flip," he shouted, and the dog whined, but obeyed his master. Then the leopard slunk up to the foot of the tree and laid down on the mossy ground just beneath the legs of the tripod.

This gave Jack a sudden idea. "I'll try to capture the leopard," said the little adventurer to himself. "It's the only way I can get down out of here." Then he jumped and landed on top of the tripod. The long legs sank deep into the ground and pinned the leopard safe and sound. (Continued.)

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton

ONE MORNING MR. TATTERS LOOKED OUT OF HIS WINDOW

One morning Mister Tatters, the little Raggy Man, looked out of his window in Raggy Land (which was under the ground, you know) and saw something. Something that hadn't been there the day or two before.

He looked again. Indeed, to make quite sure, he looked three times. And finally he took off his nightie and put on his raggedy overalls and ran out of his little house and went over to the something and looked right at it.

"Yes, sir!" As sure as you're born, that's it," he nodded tightly to no one at all. For it was early and none of the little Raggies or either of the Twins were awake yet.

"Yes, sir! That's it!" he repeated. "I've been afraid all along it would come something, and here it is at last!"

Then he blew his whistle.

At that every one of the Raggies jumped out of bed and into their coats and flew out to see what Mister Tatters wanted. And you may be sure Nancy and Nick were there first.

"What is it?" asked Nick breathlessly. "Is something hurt?"

"Something will be," said Mister Tatters. "If we don't get to work at once. And we'll have to get the Brownies and elves and pixies to help us."

"What is it? Oh, do tell us!" cried Nancy. "It must be something awful!"

"It is," answered the Raggy man, pointing to some roots overhead. "Don't you see what that is? The Raggies have planted wild mustard in Farmer Brown's wheat field. It will ruin his wheat, every bushel, unless we pull it all out at once. It's just started to grow!"

Then such bustling as there was! They worked all day and nearly half the night.

But Farmer Brown's wheat was saved. Thanks to the Twins and the Raggies.

WILL GO BACK TO THEIR JOBS

Ash and Waste Department
Men Who Quit Will Be
Reinstated

Murphy Lyons and Edward
Gill Given Hearing by
Public Service Board

Threatened internal trouble in the department of ashes and waste collection was averted by the board of public service last night when they suggested the reinstatement of two men, Murphy Lyons and Edward Gill, who quit their jobs three days ago on being changed from alley cleaning to regular collection.

The men were given a hearing by the board and Superintendent Michael H. Harrington said they had refused to do the work to which he had assigned them, had left their jobs and he desired two extra drivers to take their place. It was deemed the best part of wisdom to have the men return to work and it was suggested by Chairman Dennis J. Murphy.

This hearing and the appearance before the board of a committee from the municipal employees' union on the matter of summer vacation was the first of a series of hearings on the matter which lasted nearly two hours, most of which time was taken up with hearings on petitions for street, sewer and sidewalk improvements.

Action was taken on the following petitions: E. J. Clark, edge-land avenue, granted; Severin Beaudry, et al., sewer in Vincent street, referred to city engineer; Pawtucketville Social club, concrete sidewalk on Gershom avenue from Boston to Bodwell street, granted; Clayton F. Jenkinson, edge-land avenue at 123 Melrose street, granted; William C. Gillin, concrete sidewalk at 73 B street, granted; Oliver R. Blake, edge-land and cluder sidewalk, 28-34 McKinley avenue, granted; Alice S. Whelan, edge-land at 131 Albee street, granted; Amanda A. Mathews, edge-land at 57 Victoria street, granted; catch basin later; Avila Sawyer, edge-land and concrete sidewalk on Mt. Grove street, granted; Abel R. Campbell et al., that Ruth street be laid out and accepted, cluder sidewalk and six-foot grass strip be laid out on westerly side of street to easterly side and profiles to be requested; Joseph Desileis, curbstones on Riverside street, granted; Elzear Leclerc, edge-land and cluder sidewalk south side of Farmland road, granted; Madeline T. Welch, sewer in Rogers street, extended from 45 to Higgins avenue, granted; John Scott, sewer in Stevens street from Rogers to James, granted; E. W. Douglas, sewer be laid to drain land in Andover street, plans and estimates requested; James Thomas, cement sidewalk in front of 45-50 Lewis street, referred to city engineer; as to who shall pay for same; James Durand, sewer in South Wilder street, 150 ft. long, plans and estimates to be submitted; Joseph Bellemare, sewer in Waverly street and Colonial avenue, plans and estimates to be submitted.

The committee of the Municipal Employees' union submitted a request for vacation periods as usual, preferably during the months of July and August. At a previous meeting the board voted to defer all vacations until later in the year because of so much work on hand at this time. Mr. Leary moved the previous vote of the board be rescinded, but it failed of a second and the matter remains as before. The committee also made request for motor truck transportation to and from water works pumping station on the boulevard. Employees now have to walk two miles each way. The board took it under advisement.

Daniel Moynihan, president of the union, spoke of several "sparrows" men who have been transferred to construction gangs and asked they be given back their old jobs. In many cases these men are too old for construction work, he said. Mr. Murphy asked Secretary John P. Donnelly of the union to prepare a list of such men so that action may be taken on the request at a later meeting.

Mr. Murphy was the prime mover in the case to ask the mayor to notify the Lowell Gas Light Co. that it is not living up to its contract with the city in the matter of placing street signs on its corner lights.

ANOTHER GREEK CHURCH

Annunciation Greek Orthodox Community Outlines Plans for New Church

If plans outlined at a meeting held last evening at 435 Market street are carried out, Lowell will soon have another Greek Orthodox church. Just where the new church will be located has not been determined, but Thomas Noulas, a local attorney, has been instructed to prepare bonds, which will be issued by the new community to its members, and as soon as the money is realized a site will be purchased.

The movement for a new church is not new, as it was started last year and as a matter of fact the organization has already received its charter of incorporation from the secretary of state. No efforts have been made recently to promote the new community, but a few days ago the incorporators of the new corporation, which will be known as the Annunciation Greek Orthodox community, met at Lowell, have again stimulated activities and now it looks as though the project will be carried through and that the members of the new community will soon be able to worship in their own church.

The community of the Annunciation was founded last year by a group of members of the Holy Trinity Greek Orthodox community after seceding from the old church. The incorporators were then known as Venturists, but since that time, it is said, many Royalists have joined the new group and the church is to be conducted on church principles only; all politics will be eliminated. As soon as a church building is secured the community will apply to the representatives of the Patriarch of Greece and the Holy Synod of Constantinople in this country for clergy and the services will be according to the Greek Orthodox ritual.

The establishment of the new church is now in the hands of a committee composed of the following: Emmanuel Kalkas, chairman; Nicholas J. Papas, George Pasteris, Constantine J. Papas and George Mallaros. Instead of having a board of directors of 21, a special committee of five, three auditors, a president, secretary and treasurer as the Holy Trinity community, the new community plans to leave the community matters in the hands of a committee of five to be known as deacons. The plans are, it is said, to conduct the church on American principles, and thus avoid political conflicts, which heretofore have been very common in the old community.

Speaking about the plans of the committee this morning, Mr. Noulas said an endeavor will be made to raise $10,000 by means of bonds and as soon as the money is realized a church building will be purchased.

"There will be no party restrictions in the church," said Mr. Noulas, "for Royalists, Venturists and others will be welcomed to worship with us. Our will be a church and not a political organization."

TESTIMONIAL DINNER FOR HUGH J. MOLLOY

The Company G Associates, Massachusetts State Guard, will give a testimonial dinner to Hugh J. Molloy, superintendent of schools in this city, on June 25th in Liberty hall.

The occasion for the testimonial is that this month Mr. Molloy completes 49 years as a teacher, and the members of the association feel that a testimonial banquet is the least they can do to show their appreciation of his work.

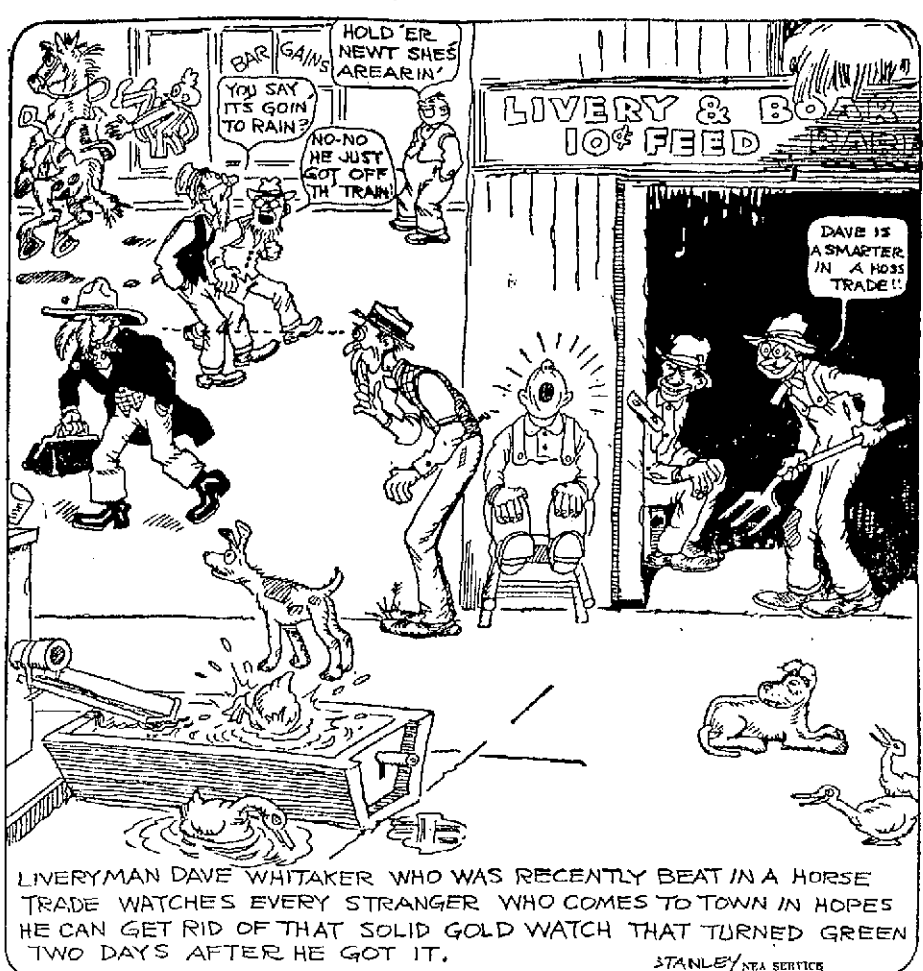

While plans for the affair are not complete, Edward W. Daly, president of the organization, said today that he expected to have Congressman John Jacob Rogers as toastmaster, and the superintendent of schools in Boston, a member of the state board of education, and Rev. E. Hickey, head of the parochial school in the Boston diocese as speakers.

Invitations were mailed today to members of the association and their friends and any others who wish to attend the affair may do so by notifying Mr. Daly of their intention on or before Wednesday, June 27.

CLOSING OF SUPERIOR COURT SESSION

The 12 weeks session of superior civil court was brought to a close today, Judge Sisk listening to several motions on questions of law.

Yesterday afternoon the jury returned a verdict for the defendant in the case of Theodore Thomas of Lowell vs. the Eastern Massachusetts St. Railway Co. This was an action to recover damages for injury to a truck which the plaintiff claimed was struck by a one-man car on Main street in Woburn, due to alleged negligence on the part of the motorman.

The defense claimed that the driver of the truck was not exercising due care. Attorney Fred Wier conducted the defense.

The jury was out for about three hours when word was sent to the court that no agreement could be reached. The vote stood 8 to 4. It was understood. The jury was then brought in and given further instructions by the court. After retiring for the second time the 12 men quickly came to an agreement.

In discharging the members of the jury yesterday Judge Sisk complimented them upon their work and the fact that not a single disagreement was reported during the entire sitting. The court also paid a compliment to the attorneys.

5 o'clock, including five-minute addresses by prominent alumni and the presentation of an oil portrait of the late headmaster, Cyrus W. Irish, from 8 to 11:30 o'clock there will be dancing and a general good time in Frank E. Culture hall. Refreshments will be obtainable in the new lunch room.

The association is now 14 years old and has accomplished a great deal of work. Plans for the future call for a bigger association as that more work can be done. It is expected that the annual reunion will be the highest in the history of the association and that many more members will be added to the roll on that occasion.

FOREIGN WAR VETERANS

Financial Support Needed to
Bring State Convention
Here Next Year

Commander David F. Caddell of the Walker-Rogers post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars is endeavoring to secure the financial support of the city council and other organizations in the city, to finance the holding of the fourth annual state convention of the veterans in Lowell next year. "Boston contributed $3,000 for the convention and $800 additional was added for fireworks at Charlestown on Bunker Hill day," states Commander Caddell.

"It would take about $1500 to finance the meeting of 1000 delegates, and at least as many more members of the organization who would accompany their representatives to Lowell. At the present time there are 60 posts scattered through the state, with an enrollment of over 10,000 members.

A campaign has been started to increase the number of posts to 100 before the next convention. The executive committee of the Veterans of Foreign Wars is desirous of holding the convention in Lowell, as it believes the Memorial Auditorium to be the ideal building in Massachusetts, which fills the needs of a big convention of veterans. If the Walker-Rogers post is assured of proper financial support for this convention, it will be brought here," continued Mr. Caddell.

The Lowell post has no funds available for the proper entertainment of such a number of delegates, and it is necessary that assistance be obtained from the people who would benefit from such a gathering.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars organization is made up of veterans who were overseas during the World War.

LOWELL DISTRICT COURT

Larceny Charge is Taken
Under Consideration Till
Tomorrow—Other Cases

Intimating that the government had not proved beyond a reasonable doubt, the guilt of Frank Cutler, charged with the larceny of $80 from Frank Mahoney, the case was taken under consideration until tomorrow by Judge Enright in the district court this morning. Cutler, it is alleged, entered into an agreement with the complainant to sell four Spitz puppies and compensate him in the sum of $80. Cutler claimed the puppies died of distemper before a sale could be made.

Simon Krancianes, on a first offense for illegal keeping, paid a fine of $100. Henry Wodylo, arrested on Mammoth road by Motorcycle Officer Charles Hamilton, for speeding and failure to give the proper signals, was fined $10 on each count. A fine of $15 was imposed on Samuel Burns on a finding of guilty to a charge of drunkenness. He was given a week to pay. For a like offense, a sentence of six months in the house of correction, suspended for two years, was imposed on Kostas Kallio. Clarence Sibley, charged with drunkenness and assault and battery on his wife, was continued in $700 until tomorrow.

HAS NEW MANIFOLD FOR GAS ENGINES

How to operate a Ford car for 19 to 42 miles on a gallon of gasoline was demonstrated today by Philip Samuels, 32 Lane street, who recently received a patent on a new manifold for gas engines. The demonstration was given this forenoon for the benefit of Harry C. Glasheen, representing Mayor John A. Donovan and the car performed just as its owner said it would.

The invention of Mr. Samuels eliminates all carbon, uses up all liquid gas in explosion and prevents any gas creeping by the piston rings. He has subjected the manifold to the most severe tests and never has failed to run his per gallon mileage at least 38 miles and even has gone as high as 42 miles over good roads.

Although the invention to date has been demonstrated only on Ford machines, it is attainable to any make of car and is guaranteed to increase mileage proportionately.

Relieve scalp irritations with Resinol

Eczema and dandruff are among the most frequent causes of baldness and too much care cannot be exercised in getting rid of them. The Resinol treatment is an easy method.

Shampoo with Resinol Soap, working the lather well into the roots of the hair. Rinse thoroughly and when wholly dry, spread the hair apart and gently rub into the scalp a little Resinol Ointment. If done carefully little ointment will get on the hair. Ask your druggist for Resinol.

VANDENHECKE FOUND SLAYER OF 33 PERSONS GUILTY OF MURDER AND HIS WIFE EXECUTED

LAWRENCE, June 22.—Cyrille Vandennecke was found guilty of murder in the first degree by a jury in superior court here yesterday. The jury was out three hours. District Attorney William G. Clark announced that he would move for sentence next week.

Vandennecke was charged with the murder in August, 1918, of Gislain Schuremann of this city. Schuremann was found with two bullets in his body. Vandennecke, after the shooting returned to Belgium, his native country, later going to Canada. He was arrested in Renfrew, Ont., last February.

The state charged that the shooting resulted from Vandennecke's alleged intimacy with Schuremann's wife. At the trial Mrs. Schuremann testified that she had gone to Philadelphia to live with Vandennecke because he had threatened to kill her if she refused. She returned to her husband later.

Vandennecke, taking the stand in his own defense, said he had gone to Schuremann's home to get some clothing belonging to him, and Schuremann fired at him, one bullet wounding him in the leg. There followed a tussle the defendant testified, or which he had no recollection. He said that when his memory returned he was on the high seas bound for Belgium.

MOSCOW, June 22.—(By the Associated Press.)—Ivan Komarov, known as "the wolf of Moscow," convicted of murdering 33 persons since 1921, and his wife were executed Monday night by a firing squad.

Throughout his trial Komarov had affected bravado, but after his conviction he endeavored in every way to save his life. First he appealed for a new trial, and when this was denied he pleaded with the government for clemency.

Komarov was a former Moscow cabinet officer. He was arrested last month on a charge of having murdered 33 persons, 22 of the bodies of whom were found in the cellar of his house tied in sacks.

PETITION IS DENIED

Judge McCole, of the probate court, has denied the petition for the framing of issues to be heard by a jury in the matter of the contested will of the late James M. McDermott, who left the major portion of his estate to Ella McDermott, a sister-in-law with whom he lived. Nieces and nephews contested the document, alleging lack of testamentary capacity and undue influence. Kerwin and Kelly and James H. Gilbride defended the will, with John H. Cookley of Boston and James E. O'Donnell, for the contestants.

SALE OF XMAS SEALS NETS $25,000,000

SANTA BARBARA, Calif., June 22.—Fifty million contributions, totaling $25,000,000, have been made to the national, state and local tuberculosis associations of this country in the last 15 years through the annual Christmas seal sales. Last December approximately eight million people contributed a total of $2,500,000 in the Christmas seal sale. These statements were made by Philip P. Jacobs, publicity director of the National Tuberculosis association, before the meeting of that body here today.

Mr. Jacobs pointed out that while the average contribution of the community chests last year was $1.77, the average contribution in the Christmas seal is about 50c. This fact, he pointed out, indicates the democracy

HEIDELBERG TO RECEIVE HELP

HEIDELBERG, June 22.—Faculty and students of Heidelberg University are rejoicing over the announcement that the institution will receive 50,000 English pounds from the estate of the late Dr. Mond, who founded one of the leading chemical houses in England and is the father of Sir Alfred Mond, who was a member of the Lloyd George cabinet. Dr. Mond was born in Germany, but became a British subject.

Heidelberg is one of the most international of the German institutions of higher education. It had 2500 students during the term which recently closed, about ten per cent of whom were foreigners.

Of these, Switzerland led with 47 students, a majority of whom were taking law courses. North and South America sent six students, England had 12, Greece 11, Bulgaria 13 and Japan 15, 13 of whom were studying philosophy.

NEW PEARL VALUED AT $60,000

SYDNEY, N.E.W., June 22.—The discovery at Broome of a pearl of 102 grains, of double-button shape, is reported by the chief pearling inspector of West Australia.

The pearl, which is valued at $60,000, surpasses the famous "Star of the West" which weighed 101 grains and was valued at $50,000.

AUSTRIAN EMISSARY TO AMERICAN TOURISTS

VIENNA, June 22.—Capt. Joseph Elmsle, formerly of the Austrian navy, accompanied by two friends, will attempt to cross the Atlantic in June from Hamburg to New York in a sailing yacht 46 feet long. The three men built the boat themselves on Lake Constance, the cost being defrayed by public subscription.

On arrival in America Capt. Elmsle intends to give a series of lectures on Austria as a tourist country.

GOATS FROM CHICAGO TO SAVE BABIES

CHICAGO, June 22.—The Grenfell mission in Labrador sends goats to supply milk to preserve infant life. The herds of some Chicago millionaires are being assessed to meet the demand. Mrs. James A. Patten and Charles A. Stevens are among those who have contributed pure bred animals.

It has been said that the lives of 500,000 babies would be saved annually in the United States if the infants could have goats' milk, which comes nearest to mothers' milk. Goats' milk sells at about 40 cents a quart, and even at this price it is hard to get.

WOULD UTILIZE JAPANESE TIDES

Kobe, Japan, June 22.—Dr. Okada, of the Kobe Marine Observatory, believes there are great possibilities in the utilization of the rushing tides of the Indian Sea for commercial purposes, and has asked the government to establish a tide station here.

The complicated conformations of the land cause strange irregularities in the tides about the coast of Japan, and these Dr. Okada says never have been thoroughly investigated.

RENEW PLEA FOR WORLD COURT

Pres. Harding Declares it is
"the One and Only Existing Agency of Peace"

Delivers First Prepared Address of Western Trip at
St. Louis

Wants Court to Be Made
Self-Perpetuating — No
Connection With League

ST. LOUIS, June 22.—President Harding placed before the country last night a renewed plea for American adherence to the Permanent Court of International Justice "as the one and only existing 'agency of peace' to which we can safely subscribe without violating the basic principles of our national being."

Making the first prepared address of his western trip, the president said that to bring about the end he desired he "would gladly wipe out factional difference," and proposed a reconstruction of the machinery of the international tribunal: "to dispose conclusively of all other cited apprehensions of danger from the exercise of any influence whatsoever, either open or covert, by the League of Nations or by any other organization."

"This could be done in one of two ways," he asserted. "First, by empowering the court itself to fill any vacancy arising from the death of a member or retirement from whatever cause, without interposition from any other body; or, second, by continuing the existing authority of the Permanent Court of Arbitration to nominate and by transferring the power to elect from the council and assembly of the league to the remaining members of the court of justice."

Then anticipating "the voice of the doubter," who might inquire whether the 40 nations now represented in the court would consent to these changes in the structure of the tribunal, Mr. Harding answered that "to submit to any such change is not an act of discourtesy; it is the only fair, square and honorable thing a great, self-respecting nation can do."

The crux of the conditions suggested by the president described as "the making of the world court precisely what its name implies."

"Can it be possible that, despite their protestations to the contrary, this is not what some of our sister states at heart desire?" he asked. "Must there be a test of sincerity abroad as well as at home? Then the more quickly it can be made the better, the better for them and the better for us. There is nothing to be accomplished in ambiguity. We want to know. And the only way to find out is to inquire."

The president devoted virtually all of his address to the world court, but he also reviewed briefly what had been done by his administration to get the country "back on the right track" in its domestic affairs. Although declaring he did not come to make a "partisan report," he said he took pride in pointing out that unemployment had been "banished," financial stability restored, taxes lightened, and great economies effected in government.

Washington's farrowly address was taken by the chief executive as his point of departure when he turned to foreign relations. American adherence to the court, he said, squared with the principles enunciated by Washington, who recognized the value of international arbitration.

"It is with that high purpose in mind that I advocate participation by the United States in the Permanent Court of International Justice," continued Mr. Harding. "Two conditions may be considered indispensable."

"First, that the tribunal be, so constituted as to appear and to be, in theory and practice, in form and in substance, beyond the shadow of doubt, an international justice."

"Second, that the United States shall occupy a place of perfect equality with every other power."

Elaborating upon his pronouncement that the court must not be a league court, the executive asserted that the country had an opportunity to indicate its desire to join the league in 1920 and it "most emphatically refused" and it "would refuse again, no less decisively today."

"There has been no change of conditions," he added, with respect to the league issue. "It is the same league. No line in the rejected covenant has been altered, not a phrase modified, not a word omitted or added. Article XI still stands as the heart of the compact. Article XII and all other stipulations objected to and con-

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

There may be more exciting pictures than "Westbound Limited," but there are few and far between and they may be cooler places than the B. F. Keith theatre, but most of them are not around Lowell. The combination of pep in this great picture and the cool theatre make an irresistible appeal to all who like comfort and the films. An Emory Johnson production. It enlists the services of Ralph Lewis who is a splendid actor, and a long cast of people. The scenes pack along in rapid style, and one is actually held breathless by the succession of stirring scenes. It is a picture which deals with the life of the men who run the monster engines, over the iron tracks, and although it is frankly a play much that occurs has without doubt taken place in real life. Performances will be given twice daily for the remainder of the week, beginning at 2:15 and 8:15 o'clock.

THE STRAND

If you believe there are phases of high life in New York City that you know all about, then visit The Strand today or tomorrow and be enlightened on your error. See "The World of Gene Mad" and know something new and startling. Robert Edison and an all-star cast appears. The second feature is a story of the Northwest and its police. Such stories are always interesting. This one is especially so. Roy Stewart appears in the leading role.

MERRIMACK SQUARE

Only a few opportunities remain for Lowell people to see the noted juvenile star, Wesley Barry, in "Heroes of the Strand," the feature attraction of the Merrimack Square theatre. If you haven't seen this big production of modern life, make the most of your remaining opportunities. "Can a Woman Love Twice?" starring Ethel Clayton, is the second feature.

BAKERS' UNION REPRESENTATIVE

P. J. Leonard, New England representative for the Bakers' union was the principal speaker at the meetings of the Building Laborers' union and the Trades & Labor council, held in the Grosvenor building and Trades & Labor hall last evening. Mr. Leonard spoke along labor union lines and urged his listeners to patronize home industry, laying particular stress on union bake shops.

CONGRESSMAN ROGERS ADDRESSES NORMAL SCHOOL GRADUATES AT COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES

Eighty-two young women received their diplomas from the State Normal school yesterday afternoon from the hands of Robert O. Small, director of the division of vocational education, and the majority of these young women will, at the beginning of the school year next September, become teachers in the public schools of this state.

The principal address of the commencement exercises was given by Congressman John Jacob Rogers, who was introduced by the principal of the school, Clarence J. Weed.

The commencement exercises opened with the chorus "May Dance," led by Miss Jack Field Damon. Principal Weed then introduced Congressman

Rogers, whose subject was "The Commonwealth of Massachusetts."

"It is a difficult profession you young ladies have chosen," said the speaker, "and I believe it is the second most difficult profession that any young woman may enter. Nursing, in my estimation, is the most difficult and teaching is the second most difficult and is, in some respects, more important than nursing."

"There is one thing that has always struck me in the task of the teacher and that is of always being elbowed with the boys and girls in school. Take, for example, the events leading up to the war of 1812 with Great Britain. When this country was deciding whether or not to enter that war the leading men of Massachusetts, and most of the other New England states, were actually laying plans for the withdrawal of these states from the Union. The Hartford convention was held just for that purpose, and yet, in 1812, when the southern states planned on dissolving the Union, Massachusetts was one of the first to object to any state's secession and was the first to send troops in the Civil war. I cannot help contrasting the reception accorded the members of congress from this part of the country who voted in favor of the war in 1812 with those who voted in favor of this country's entrance in the World war in 1917. The men who voted in favor of the war of 1812 were literally tarred and feathered upon their arrival back in Massachusetts. I do not think they should be slighted. I do not think this war was a beautiful phase in our country's history yet I believe that it should be taught to the children exactly as it happened, for it was very remarkable that this little republic finally won the war."

"I think the generation of tomorrow should be taught the truth. I do not believe that a teacher who is not sincere will ever be a success. I believe that it is the best ethics and the wisest course to teach the children the truth, and this applies to the history of the United States just as much as it does to any other subject you may teach."

"I attended a dinner in Washington recently that was, to my mind, one of the most extraordinary functions that I have ever heard of. A man, supposed to be one of the greatest scholars of all time, had come across the Atlantic at his own expense to speak on the importance of the classics in present-day education. It was extraordinary that a man should give of his own time and money to speak and tell of the advantages to be gained by a classical education. I do not want to be thought a reactionary, I realize that this is an age when there is a demand for things which immediately fit a person for business and industrial life. In a city, a county, and a state like ours we have a great inheritance of a manly that has not the means to go as far in education as might seem desirable. We must realize that and provide educational forces that will give as much as possible in the short time allowed them. I think you should teach that the things of the past are good things nowadays. We can still learn from the ancients, and although this thought is discouraging in one way, it is helpful in another, for it shows us that the labor of the mind and the hand still lives after 2500 years and the things that we create may also be of some use to the people of the future."

"There are only three primary bulwarks of society. You represent one of them. There is the school, the home, and the church. These three foundation stones are the root of every organized and efficient and decent society. We have a good progressive country because we have a good school and a good church in the nation and we still regard the family life as the very essence of decent society."

"I have here in my hand a slip of paper that represents the value of the Russian rubles. Before the war it was worth $50,000. I bought it for 10 cents and the man who sold it to me was a profiteer for it is not worth a cent except as a souvenir. When you read what Russia is trying to do today you find the reason for this slip of paper having no purchasing value at all. You find her trying to wipe out the church, the family and the school. She is not seeking to wipe out one foundation stone of civilization, but she is trying to wipe out all three and that is why this piece of paper is worth less than one cent. And the reason is as easily deduced in regard to the American dollar for this bill is an absolute promise to pay to the bearer ten dollars in gold. We know and the world knows that the United States is built on the three foundation stones of civilization and that it has kept those three intact."

"My thought of the teaching profession is not a light one. I think you are the foundation of the generation which is to come. But I think in spite of all the qualities you must possess, the most important thing in the equipment of the teacher is an appreciation of the fact that she is moulding all future time, even when she and the children are at play. She is moulding not only their thoughts and the degree of information that they are to retain, but is moulding the spiritual and the subconscious life which makes the difference in the long run between success and failure. It is the quality which makes the young people of today dreamers in the best sense of the word, dreamers as opposed to visionaries."

"The congressman then recited the poem entitled, 'Dreamers of Dreams,' and then said in conclusion: 'You young ladies going forth under the banner of the commonwealth be always dreamers of dreams and help your children to know that there is something behind the sordid and personal in the individual. Remember your responsibilities, bear in mind the opportunities of life in our commonwealth, and accept from all of us assembled here today the most hearty Goodspeed.'"

Following Mr. Rogers' address the Glee club sang two numbers, "Woe Thou Sweet Music" and "It Was a Lover and His Lass."

Miss Mary Beatrice Devine, president of the class, then presented to the school the class gift, a garden seat for the tennis court. Mr. Weed accepted the gift and the Glee club sang another group, "He Gave Me a Rose" and "Dolly."

Mr. Weed then introduced Robert O. Small to the students. Mr. Small spoke briefly on teaching before presenting the diplomas. He asked the teachers to remember two things and to believe them. The two were "Have faith in democracy" and "believe the boys and girls."

The exercises closed with the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner."

The office is located at 103 Central Street, opposite the Strand Theatre, and is one of the most handsomely equipped and brilliantly lighted dental parlors in this vicinity. No expense has been spared, thousands of dollars have been spent in opening this most up-to-date, sanitary dental parlor. With equipment of surpassing nature, Dr. Fagan will be in a position to render the very highest degree in efficiency in all branches of dentistry. Dr. J. Dr. Fagan's aim is to give the people of Lowell and vicinity most modern sanitary dental service at most reasonable prices in an office equipped with practically every device known to modern dentistry.

Special attention is called to the most costly scientific and wonderful X-Ray department to be found only in the most exclusive dental offices.

With this X-Ray, Dr. Fagan is able to take radiograph pictures of your mouth which is the only Safe and Sure Diagnosis and positively tell and locate your trouble. With this method there is no guess work.

The Dentist no longer works in the dark and many teeth will now be saved where by the other method they had to be taken out.

Dr. Fagan thinks this department will be greatly appreciated by the people of Lowell, especially those who are and have been going to dentists for a long time without results.

Another costly addition to Dr. Fagan's office is the Violet Ray High Frequency Department. Another scientific addition is the much advertised SLEEP VAPOR DEPARTMENT (Nitrous oxide with oxygen).

EXPERT EXTRACTION

We never advise extraction unless it is absolutely necessary, but when we do extract, we do it without one bit of pain. We use two methods to obtain this result. One is by Sleep Vapor (nitrous oxide and oxygen), the surest and best method in the world; the other is by means of our own preparation, applied to the gums. Either way means no pain for you. We do not charge an exorbitant figure for this work, either. No charge for painless extraction when other work is done. All work guaranteed.

Don't feel that you are putting me to any trouble because you come in for advice, or come to look the office over. My methods put me in a class entirely by myself. A clam bake was served at six o'clock to the hungry ex-soldiers. Lieut. Edward W. Daly had charge of arrangements.

WINCARNIS Was the Only Thing That Seemed to Do Mrs. Hueston Good

WAS SERIOUSLY INJURED

Eleven-Year-Old Girl Had Skull Fractured in Auto Accident

Janet Dawson, 11-year-old daughter of Mrs. Mary J. Dawson, of 6 Birch street, is in a critical condition at St. John's hospital, suffering from a fractured skull and internal injuries, as a result of an auto accident on the state highway near Tewksbury last night.

The little girl was riding with Edgar Greenwood, of 329 Fairmount st., Mrs. Greenwood and their three children. Mr. Greenwood attributed the accident to the glare of an approaching machine, the driver of which refused to move from the center of the road. Mr. Greenwood said he was forced to steer his Ford off the road into deep sand, and as he did the machine turned turtle.

The accident happened near the Buck house and the highway between Warrick and Tewksbury center, and all the occupants were pinned underneath the car. The Dawson girl was the only one seriously injured and she was rushed to the hospital by Patrick Scully, a passing motorist.

Yacht Worth $25,000 Destroyed

NEW LONDON, Conn., June 22.—The power yacht Tawasi, owned by W. G. Cowles of Hartford, was destroyed by fire off the mouth of the Connecticut river late yesterday. A short circuit in the engine room was the cause of the fire. Mr. and Mrs. Cowles and Captain and Mrs. W. R. Wickham of Mattituck, N. Y., who were on the vessel, abandoned it after vain attempts to extinguish the flames, and put off in the yacht's tender which was picked up by a yacht owned by Warner Brother of Bridgeport. Those on board escaped only with the clothes they had on. All escaped injury, except Captain Wickham, who received slight burns on the hands and arms. The vessel is said to have been worth about $25,000.

NEW YORK STATE WET BY A CLOSE SHAVE

by N.E.A. Service
NEW YORK, June 22.—National events many times hinge on small things. Here's a story of an insignificant shave that figured in an event that has turned the country inside out—politically.

The bill repealing New York's state enforcement act was introduced by Assemblyman Louis Cuvillier of this city. He put it in early during the last session at Albany. And it was pigeonholed.

In the state senate the Donegan bill was introduced. It also called for a repeal of the Mullin-Gage law, the legislative name of the state enforcement act. On the final day of the session the Donegan bill was resurrected.

Ex-Barkeeper Missing

The senate O.K'd it. But because a former bartender was absent from his seat in the lower house the bill failed. Wet leaders were panic-stricken, and it was then that someone thought of the Cuvillier bill. A searching party determinedly set out to look for the missing ex-bartender. Luckily as the party hove in sight of the barbershop, the assemblyman was being powdered. He was rushed to the voting chamber, and his vote made the Cuvillier repealer possible—a vote that has started the nation talking, and has changed the aspect of the pending presidential campaign.

Cuvillier is confident the Volstead law is doomed.

Wants Temperance

"We will always have and we should have temperance. But we eventually will not have prohibition as it is today," he says.

"Our repeal has made it certain that prohibition will be the dominant issue of the next national campaign. I introduced my bill because I felt the time had come to modify the Volstead law, which is fanaticism, pure and simple.

"I am a Virginian and I have always been opposed to man-made laws eradicating nature's laws. That is what was done in putting over prohibition during the hysteria of war."

"Each state has a right to say what is intoxicating and what is not. The constitution is not a law but a chart to guide government."

CHURCH WILL OBSERVE ST. JOHN'S DAY

There will be no civil observance of St. John's day here next Sunday, but the day will not be allowed to pass unnoticed, for a special church service in observance of the feast will be conducted at St. Jean Baptist Church in Merrimack street.

The service will be at 11 o'clock and in the form of a solemn high mass with sermon on the life of St. John by Rev. Antoine A. Amyot, O.M.I., dean of the Oblate clergy of this city. The celebrant of the mass will be Rev. Emile Bolduc, O.M.I., who was ordained at Washington a week ago yesterday and who celebrated his first mass at St. Joseph's church last Sunday. He will be assisted by Rev. L. G. Bachand, O.M.I., as deacon and Very

Rev. J. E. Turcotte, O.M.I. as sub-deacon.
The choir, under the direction of R. E. Pepin, who will also preside at the organ, augmented for the occasion by members of St. Joseph's church choir, will render a special musical program.

LOWELL BABIES HAVE BEEN FORTUNATE

The babies of Lowell have been exceptionally fortunate during the very hot weather, according to Miss May C. McNevin, superintendent of the Lowell Guild, for out of the 1800 babies and children of pre-school age that come under their care, there has not as yet been one death reported due to the heat. There have been, however, many cases of suffering reported, especially in the crowded districts and if the rules of baby hygiene were followed by mothers much of this suffering could be avoided.

According to Miss McNevin, there are five simple rules that will keep the baby comfortable and safe from illness during the hot weather. The first is, do not over-feed or over-dress the baby; the second, give it a bath frequently; the third, give it plenty of water; the fourth, find the coolest place for the baby and keep it there, covered with a netting so that flies and mosquitoes can not get at it; and the fifth, ball the milk which is to be fed the baby.

These rules are easy to follow, says Miss McNevin, but in some cases the mother of the baby refuses, for reasons unknown, to follow them. She has had several cases reported to her by the district nurses of babies swathed in heavy flannel, and the mother could not understand why the baby cried and fretted. In other houses it is reported that the babies are fed hot as much on an extremely hot day as in the middle of winter and the parents wonder why the baby needs a doctor. In a few cases the nurses report that the baby is never bathed except when the nurse does the work.

The biggest grievance that the nurses have is that the babies are left without any netting at all over them to keep the disease-breeding flies and mosquitoes off them. This netting is very cheap and the nurses say that there is no reason why every baby is not protected by it.

In speaking of the work of the guild among the babies during the hot weather, Miss McNevin said that the guild is handicapped because there is no children's hospital or summer camp in this city where the children might be sent from the thickly settled tenement districts and she stated that until such a place is afforded the city, the best results in infant welfare can not be obtained, although Lowell's infant mortality is no higher than in many other textile cities.

CASE CONTINUED

The case of Milo D. Clay, charged with manslaughter in connection with the death of Lawrence Cummings at the corner of Westford and Wilder streets about three weeks ago, was continued in the district court this morning until July 6.

Conflicting Claims From
Union Leaders and Officials
of Telephone Company

BOSTON, June 22.—In the face of conflicting statements from union leaders and officials of the New England Telephone & Telegraph Co., the general public was in the dark today as to the probable response by telephone operators throughout New England to vote in favor of a strike east by a majority of the participants in the strike referendum of the telephone operators' department of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.

Union heads after completing the count of the ballots late last night announced that 7699 of the approximately 12,000 operators in New England had voted, and that 85 per cent. of the ballots were in favor of a strike. They did not announce the standing of the vote as a whole but said that in the Boston Metropolitan district the strike was approved by a vote of 2494 to 410.

George H. Dresser, general manager of the company in a statement, asserted that in Greater Boston, less than 500 out of a total of about 6000 operators voted, adding: "In a number of offices the great majority of the operators have signed papers expressing their determination to remain at their posts if a strike is called."

"Reports from other parts of our territory show that in a great majority of exchanges only a small minority of operators actually voted. We are advised that no vote was taken in any exchange in the extreme western part of Massachusetts. In Springfield, less than half the total force voted. In Worcester, only about 25 per cent. of the total force voted."

He said that "so far as we can ascertain, no vote was taken in New Hampshire except at Manchester" and none in Vermont. He expressed the opinion that in Rhode Island, large number of the employees would remain "loyal to the service."

The union statement said that the wage scale committee interpreted the "strike on the integrity of the Boston vote as further evidence of the campaign to destroy the operators' morale and that the company was attempting "to intimidate the operators into submission."

The company will be notified by letter of the vote and the regional joint council of the union will meet here on Sunday to set a date for the strike, which is called to enforce demands for increased wages and a seven hour day. The state board of conciliation and arbitration has begun conferences in the hope of averting a strike.

Retail druggists are obliged to pay an annual tax of $5.00, and physicians, dentists and veterinary surgeons must pay an annual tax of $3.00.

Liner With Liquor

Aboard Arrives

were not consumed, were dumped overboard at the three-mile limit. While ship's officers had been ordered by their line to "keep mum" it was understood at quarantine that action by American authorities might be expected when the captain presented himself at the custom house with his manifest.

Customs officials visited the Baltic's manifest and belief became stronger that no action in her case would be taken until the manifest was presented at the customs house.

Although treasury department officials have not announced details of their plan for seizure of the Berengaria's liquor, it is believed that it will take place at a quarantine where the vessel is expected to stop.

The Baltic called from Liverpool on June 2, a day before the latest American dry ruling became effective. She hit a submerged wreck and returned for slight repairs. As she put out again for the United States after June 16, it is believed the new ruling applies also to her.

Officers on the ship confirmed reports that all foreign liners on their way now to the United States were carrying supplies for the homeward voyage.

Liner Reliance Bona Dry
The United American Liner Reliance, flying the Panama flag, which also arrived from abroad today came in home dry. She dumped what liquor her passengers could not drink before crossing the three mile limit.

The Baltic reached her pier shortly after 11 o'clock, and Captain Roberts prepared to sign her manifest, after which he planned to visit the customs house.

It was learned that while the customs authorities intended to seize her sealed liquor, they did not plan to act until after Captain Roberts had applied to the United States Public Health Service for a permit to enter with liquor for medicinal purposes.

Ordered to Seize Liquor
After this permit has been issued the customs agents were under orders to seize all liquor in excess of medical requirements, whether in or out of seal.

This program also would be followed with the incoming Berengaria and other ships carrying liquor under seal for the return trip, it was indicated.

The Berengaria reached quarantine a little after 11 o'clock and, after a brief stop, during which her sealed liquor remained unopened, started for pier, where customs agents awaited her.

United States Attorney Hayward announced that he was ready to carry out any suggestions from the treasury department or department of justice with reference to the ships carrying liquor under seal.

Recognizes U. S. Authority
LONDON, June 22.—(By the Associated Press.)—It is declared in well informed quarters here that the British government in no way challenges the authority of American officials to break their consular seals and confiscate the liquor aboard ships, it being recognized that the jurisdiction of the British government in the case of liquor or any other goods sealed at a British port, ceases once the three mile limit is passed.

Charged With Assaulting Officers

women, Eva Korsak, grabbed a bottle and attacked him and Officer Cotter. Counsel objected to the use of the term "outlooked."

Witness said that in the scuffle which ensued, several persons in the house gathered around him and Cotter, a woman lifting a flatiron and striking Cotter on the head, breaking his straw hat. The instrument also struck Cotter below the lip. Aldrich was hit on the head also, and again on the arms and hands with a screwdriver.

Officer Aldrich said he did not have a warrant to search the house in question. It was the downstairs tenement the officers wished to investigate. Asked what right he had to go into the upstairs apartment, he replied: "The right of any police officer on duty for the purpose of confiscating illegal liquor."

Aldrich said that he stood near the doorway and that Cotter stood behind him on the stairway. The latter accompanied him, he said, "because the chauffeur always goes with us on a raid." He admitted, under cross-examination, that they were not raiding the upstairs tenement.

It was rather a busy time during the few minutes before the other officers, Dagley, Kilroy and McDermott, arrived on the scene.

"Do you know how a 10-year-old boy and one of the women received injuries which required medical treatment?"

"I didn't know anything about it until I saw the wounds being dressed in the station."

"Who was it attacked the lady?"

"I have no knowledge of that."

"Did anyone else take hold of her besides you?"

"Yes, Cotter did."

"Did you see anybody knock the boy down?"

"I didn't see him go down."

"Can you give an idea of how the boy got a split head?"

"I didn't see him hit."

"Did the boy hit you?"

"Yes, he hit me with the flatiron."

"Didn't that boy go up to you when you were holding his mother and didn't you then strike him and knock him down?"

"No."

The witness stated that he saw the boy bleeding on the floor, but couldn't say that he or any of the other officers were responsible for his condition.

He said the boy struck him with a flatiron. He could not state where one of the men got two black eyes, but saw Officer Bagley use a club on another of the male defendants.

According to his best judgment, there were three officers in the room. He did not attempt to stop the clubbing, he said, because it was necessary even to the extent of killing for the sake of self-preservation.

"Didn't you know that when that woman grabbed a bottle threateningly, you were getting an unwelcome reception?"

"After she did it, yes."

"Didn't the woman have the bottle in her breast and didn't you make an attempt to get it?"

"No, sir."

"What did you go there for?"

"To get the key to the trap door downstairs."

Sergeant Cotter was the second government witness. He said he was asked to remain at the door downstairs. When Aldrich hoisted, he went upstairs and was greeted at the door by a smash in the face, which temporarily stunned him. One of the women had a bottle in her hand. Somebody, he couldn't state who, struck him beneath the lower lip and he went "out." "It was quite a scuffle," he added.

In reply to a question by counsel for the defense, Cotter answered that his appearance in the house was in response to a cry of "Help!" He said he saw Aldrich apparently fall through the door. He did not see anyone strike the latter.

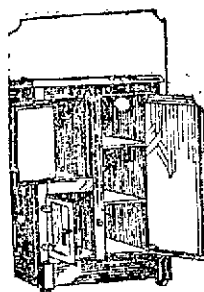

At this juncture, the court adjourned until 2 o'clock.

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDSDEPRESSION IN OIL FOR STOCK JOBBING

WASHINGTON, June 22.—Depression in the price of crude oil during the last three months was said today by Senator Curtis of Kansas, to be "primarily for the purpose of stock jobbing."

He charged that "certain stock jobbers have been systematically placed in possession of advance information regarding the reductions to be made in the price of crude and refined oil."

"While government control of the petroleum industry may not be desirable," said a statement issued by Senator Curtis, "it is certainly true that the cause of those who advocate government control has been greatly advanced by the fact that a small group of men has been able to foretell and to bring about a series of cuts of petroleum prices in such a way as to destabilize the industry and at the same time reduce the entire securities market to a state of demoralization."

Government Will Use Force if Necessary to Block Plan to Prevent Coal Shipments

WASHINGTON, June 22.—Any attempt of the United Mine Workers of America in combination with the unions of foreign countries, to prevent shipment of coal from abroad, into the United States during progress of coal strikes will be prevented by the government of the United States promptly and forcefully," Attorney General Daugherty declared today in a letter to the federal coal commission.

The attorney general declared his attention had been called to "what is claimed to be a contract" between officials of the miners' union in the United States and "certain officials of a similar organization" in foreign countries providing for such a check in coal shipments during strikes. He asked the coal commission to give him any facts obtainable by it in the matter "in order that such action may be taken as is justifiable."

Woman Gets Surprise of Her Life

After Years of Stomach Trouble Dreco Gives Her Health

"I had the surprise of my life," says Mrs. E. J. Hunter, "and I had only taken a half bottle of DRECO."

"For years before taking DRECO I could scarcely eat without suffering the most intense pains afterward."

"Although I am not a young woman DRECO soon vanquished my trouble, and I now have a good appetite and can eat anything without suffering from indigestion afterward."

People who are rundown, tired out, debilitated, no matter what the cause, are advised to try this little test. Get from any well stocked drug store a bottle of DRECO. Take a spoonful with each meal for a few days and watch how the change works through the whole body. The appetite increases, everything you eat seems to taste better, there is no dyspepsia or gas after meals. The bowels, kidneys, stomach work in harmony and the rich, red blood goes coursing through the veins. This is what hundreds of men and women of this section say DRECO has done for them. Isn't it reasonable to expect it to do the same for you?

Two Series of Earth Shocks

WASHINGTON, June 22.—Two series of earth shocks were registered during the night on the seismograph of Georgetown university here. All business deals with the Swiss are to be cancelled and the initiation of new commercial negotiations is forbidden.

Miss Gilrairie and her company of clever dancers will present several different and odd dancing specialties, going from the old fashioned gavotte to the jazzier, popper dances of today.

Miss Gilrairie and her company have just finished a very successful engagement at the Pemberton Inn in Hull, where they were one of the big features and it was only by the expenditure of much time and money that the management of Merrimack Park were able to procure their services.

Puzzling Plays

By Billy Evans

The Play
The pitcher is standing in his position on the rubber with the ball in his possession.
There is a runner on third, who makes a break for home the minute the pitcher steps on the rubber.
The pitcher, while on the rubber, without preliminary windup, delivers the ball to the catcher to catch the runner stealing home.
It is a perfect play, with little or no speed on the ball, and the batter elects to swing at it. He hits the ball over the left field fence.
Has the batter such a right? If not, who is out?
If the pitcher stepped on the rubber without the ball in his possession, and the runner on third started for home only to be thrown out by the first baseman, who had hidden the ball, would such a play be legal?

The Interpretation
If the pitcher remained on the rubber while delivering the ball to the catcher in an effort to get the runner at the plate, such delivery constituted a legal pitch, and the batter had a right to swing at it. His home run was legal, both runners scored, and no one could be out.

If the pitcher got on the rubber without the ball in his possession, he committed a balk. The runner on third was entitled to score on the play.
The act of the first baseman, who had hidden the ball, and then thrown out the runner at the plate, was not legal. Instead, the run scored on the balk.

DIZZY SPELLS AND HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE

Dizzy Spells, Headache, Sleeplessness, Pains in the Head and Nervousness Indicate Dangerous Condition.

Norma is the name of a purely vegetable medicine that is in great demand because it does reduce high blood pressure.

Discovered by a leading Buffalo physician and successfully used for years, it has only recently been offered to the public through the better class of druggists.

Thousands have high blood pressure and don't know it, but the symptoms are plain, and any man or woman who has dizzy spells, shortness of breath, hot flashes and does not sleep well, probably has it.

High blood pressure is also indicated by nervousness, lack of appetite, a restless and sometimes moody feeling. Such people Norma will help and one bottle will prove it.

Many women in the changing time of life have found it the only remedy that reduces to normal the high pressure and is really helpful.

A. W. Dows & Co. and reliable druggists everywhere sell Norma.

YANKEES OFFER BIG SUM FOR CATCHER BRUGGY

By N. E. A. Service

PHILADELPHIA, June 22.—Danno Fortune smiles blandly on some ball players while others merely draw an unkindly frown.
The new major league rule that no players can be bought after June 15 has made apparent such a situation. This rule was made to prevent clubs from buying star players at the end of the season, when the addition of a certain player would just about clinch a pennant.

The two New York clubs for years have adopted such a policy. The Giants inaugurated it, and the Yankees to keep in step had to follow in McGraw's footsteps. This is no longer possible.
Recently in an effort to bolster his club McGraw secured Hank Gowdy and Pitcher Watson from Boston. That was a great break for Gowdy, a player on whom the Braves asked waivers during the winter. It means that Hank has a chance to shine in a big world series melon.

Then there is the case of Johnny Rawlings and Lee Meadows, lawless runners to report to the Phillies when sold by the Giants. There was little incentive to play with the talented Philadelphia pitcher unless they could get the pair from a club certain to hold down the cellar berth.

On the other hand, Frank Bruggy, second-string catcher of the Athletics, draws the tough break. Bruggy is a seasoned catcher with a good head. The New York Yankees wanted him to take the place of the ailing Schung. It is understood Outfielder Elmer Smith, a recent pitcher and a lot of money was the bait laid before Manager Mack.

At present Mack is the leading contender with the Yankees for first honors, and Mack not desiring to strengthen an arch enemy turned the offer down. Nevertheless a very tough break for Frank Bruggy. Going to New York would have meant at least an additional $5000 for the year.

Kinks-o' the Links

by "PRO"

The opponent plays his brassie shot straight down the fairway and it rolls to the edge of the creek and into the water. The water is about two feet deep and running fast. Before the ball can get to the place where the ball dropped into the water the current has carried the ball down stream toward the hole. The ball is recovered about 10 feet from where it went into the water. Should this ball be played from where it went into the creek or shall it be played from where it was taken out?

If the ball should go into the water which is permanent, like a pond or a stream, you may drop a ball behind the water at the place where it went in. If you recover it, if not you may drop another, in either case it will cost you one stroke. You may play the ball on the water if you prefer, but if the wind or the current is carrying it down stream you must not delay your shot. The ball being carried by the current must be taken back to the spot from where it went into the creek.

The player has a short putt to make on the green measuring about 10 inches. He takes his stance and in executing the shot pushes the putter along with the ball, dropping the ball into the cup.

The ball must be fairly struck with the head of the club, not pushed or spooned into the hole.

WILL CAPTAIN "IN AND OUT" CLUB TEAMS

Walter Draper and William Lemire were selected to captain the two teams comprising the "In and Out" club of the Headquarters Detachment and Combat Train of the 102 field artillery, formed at a meeting following the regular drill of the men at the state armory on Westford street last evening. The club has been formed with the idea of getting the men of the company interested in recruiting new men.

The teams are made up as follows: Capt. Walter Draper, Maurice Mul-jane, John Dennett and Donald Gordon.

Capt. William Lemire, Frank Carroll, William McKenzie and Armand Menesau.

Members will drop off teams as they secure new men and in addition will have the privilege of naming their successor, so that the personnel of the team will not decrease. Under the new organization the quota of the Headquarters detachment is expected to be filled in a short time.

ELEVEN ENTRIES FOR JULY BALLOON RACE

INDIANAPOLIS, June 22.—(By the Associated Press)—Eleven pilots have signified their intention of competing in the national balloon race, which starts here July 4, according to Blaine

McGrath, promotion director of the Indianapolis chamber of commerce, under whose auspices the race will be held. There probably will be one or two added starters, Mr. McGrath believes.

With the annual 500-mile automobile race out of the way, workmen have begun preparing for the balloons, which will be started from the Indianapolis Motor Speedway. Gas mains already are installed and other arrangements are progressing rapidly.

The entries, which include a number of soldier balloonists, are as follows: Roy F. Donaldson, pilot, and P. A. Brach, aide, both of Springfield, Ill.; Lieut. James B. Jordan, Scott Field, Ill., pilot, and Max F. Moyer, Akron, O., aide; Capt. Lester T. Miller, pilot, and Lieut. Courtland M. Brown, aide, both of Scott Field, Ill.; Lieut. Robert S. Olmstead, war department, Washington, pilot, and Lieut. John W. Shoptaw, Washington, aide; Ralph Upson, Aircraft Development Corporation, Detroit, Mich., pilot, and C. G.

Culbert, United States Naval Air Station, Hampton Roads, Va. pilot, and Lieut. T. D. Quinn, Hampton Roads, aide; Lieut. L. J. Roth, United States Naval Station, Lakehurst, aide; Lieut. Commander J. DISCUSS REFERENDUM ON TAX LAW

(Special to The Sun)
BOSTON, June 22.—Talk of starting a referendum measure on the law passed by the last legislature, which provides that the tax commissioner and his assistants shall not disclose to anyone excepting tax payers or agents what tax returns are paid, have filled the air at the state house the past few days. Persons seeking referendum information have been informed that there was an emergency preamble attached to the measure, which makes it a law when signed by the governor and removes it from the referendum class.

The new law removes from the old law the provision that returns may be cited into court by judicial order. Already there have been many cases where the new law has caused much discussion. In Fall River there are 62 court cases in which the inability to see the tax returns of corporations are collateral features of the cases.

In view of the widespread interest in this new law, Tax Commissioner Henry F. Long, who fought for the passage of the measure today issues this statement:

From August 1st, 1908, until the codification of the General Laws of the commonwealth which became effective January 2, 1921, all tax returns filed in the commonwealth of Massachusetts were open only to the inspection of those connected with the tax department and then only for the purpose of assessing or of collecting the taxes. In order that all may be taxed fairly and in proportion to their ability to contribute to the government, the commonwealth asks that every one subject to a tax make a full and complete return of all their taxable property. In return for this full and complete statement the commonwealth assures the taxpayer of the secrecy of his return, as disclosure of such returns would seem to be contrary to public policy. The interest of persons compelled under the tax laws to furnish information as to their private business affairs would be seriously affected if the disclosures so made were not properly guarded.

It is doubtful if at the time the law was codified the General Court had any real intention of removing the protection before given to tax returns for certain tax returns filed by corporations were given the protection of secrecy. For no apparent reason foreign and domestic business corporation returns were not so protected.

Under the law as it stood from January 1, 1921, until May 17, 1923, the tax returns of foreign and domestic business corporations were subject to a court order in any case which might properly be before the court, but which, however, might not have anything whatever to do with the assessing or the collection of taxes.

The individual surely does not wish to have his income tax return open for public inspection and the present law subjects his return to exposure only in an action to assess or collect the tax based on the return. Under the old law on collateral matter the return might be entered as evidence and published. The present law prevents this. It is doubtful if the com-

The present tax return of foreign and domestic business corporations is made up of two measures. The first measure is based on the last income return filed with the federal government, and is really a copy of the return filed with the federal government.

ment, and the second measure is based on the actual value of the assets and liabilities of the corporation as of April 1st of the year in which the tax is laid. The exposure of these returns for any purpose other than the purposes for which the return is made is surely not in line with the practice of the commonwealth. In many instances the exposure of these figures would be ruinous to the corporation. As a matter of policy the commonwealth cannot well ask its citizens to make a full and complete disclosure of their financial ability to contribute to the support of government, unless the commonwealth in return insures to its citizens the complete secrecy of their statements. The citizens are clearly entitled to protection from the annoyance and even disaster which might result from the public exposure of their tax returns.

EXHIBIT OF DRAWINGS AND PAINTINGS

A splendid exhibit of drawings and paintings was held in the high school yesterday afternoon, illustrative of the work accomplished by the high school pupils during the past year under the direction of Miss Georgia Blaisdell, supervisor of drawing.

The various phases represented were pencil work, light and shaded coloring, designs, posters, school paper headings, pastel and color work, pen and ink drawings, stencils, place cards, table favors, silhouettes and book covers.

There was also a display of curtains and table runners, which had been hemstitched in the home economics department and upon which a floral design had been stenciled by the drawing classes. Other types of work by the art department were also shown, such as paper flowers, paper flower baskets and reed baskets.

The water color work was especially well done, and some splendid pieces of colored pottery and vases were shown. Silhouettes, designs for book covers, architectural relief work and illustrations on exhibition were a credit to the pupils.

FUND DRIVE FOR BOY SCOUT ACTIVITIES

Scout Executive Edwin J. Mellen of the Lowell Boy Scouts announced this morning that the campaign to raise $7200 to carry on activities of the organization for the ensuing year was progressing in a manner that indicated success. "Donations varying from $1 to $100 are being received daily from corporations, individuals and lodges," said Mr. Mellen, who is much pleased with the response on the part of Lowell people interested in the scout movement.

Donors of one dollar or more are given an associate membership in the scout movement and their names will be carried on the membership rolls, and from time to time they will receive statements in regard to activities and how the money being raised is expended. The committee in charge of the campaign headed by Dr. John H. Lambert is planning to wind up the drive by June 20. Success in raising the $7200 will insure the carrying out of organization plans the holding of rallies, hikes and the maintenance of the summer camp. The committee assisting are: Frank Proctor, Royal P. White, Benjamin Pouzner, C. E. Langley, and Robert F. Marden.

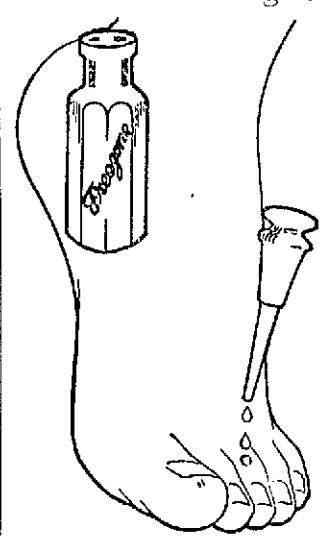

The committee in charge of selecting a site for the scout camp has practically made its choice from a long list of submitted offerings. The field has narrowed down to two sites and the scout executive stated that a choice would probably be made by night. No information could be obtained as to their location.

"The personnel of troop 22 of the Bartlett school was completed last evening with the appointment of Joseph Duffy, instructor at the school and prominent baseball player as scout master. The supervising committee are: Chairman Edwin A. Hoadley, Joseph M. Dinneen and Jefferson R. Mansfield.

Supt. Gordon says the pest in moth form is one of the most beautiful butterfly specimens he ever has seen. The color of the wings is not easily noticeable. In larva form, however, it has no such attribute, being vicious looking and particularly destructive.

GIBBONS HAS LONGER REACH THAN DEMPSEY

SHELBY, Mont., June 22.—Tom Gibbons will have the advantage in reach on Jack Dempsey when they battle here July Fourth.

Gibbons takes 74 inches. Dempsey's span is 73 inches—an inch less. If Gibbons' arms were straight he would have a 76-inch spread easily. But both of the St. Paul challenger's levers are bent in. This is due to the hooking he has done during his ten years active work in the ring.

Due to this Gibbons has just a trifle different from the trim-armed Dempsey. All the confusion from the champion's hooks goes right back into the socket joints. When Gibbons connects he has done during his ten years active work in the ring.

more of the contact kickback is re- This gives Gibbons more knockout power with less drive back of it. His blows do not land squarely like when a nail is hit on the head.

"Due to the bend in my arms I do not hit like other fighters," says Gibbons. "My punches are more like glancing blows. They call clipping in boxing. I don't know how hard Dempsey hits, but I think I get the same effectiveness as he does. Dempsey has to hit harder than I do to get the same effect the way I figure."

"My arms were not bent when I started boxing. Some way a big change came over me physically after I figured I had reached my growth. I not only grew taller, but bigger all over. I developed from a middleweight to a heavyweight."

"During this time of growth my bones must have been plastic. The continual hooking in actual fights and gymnasium boxing did the rest."

"When I was training down to a middleweight I never had my full strength. I wasn't a knockout fighter. After I decided to fight at my natural weight which quickly ran up to the heavyweight class, more power got into my punches. Then the knockout came in bunches. I do not believe a boxer should make weight. Natural weight is your fighting weight."

WILL GO BACK TO THEIR JOBS

Ash and Waste Department
Men Who Quit Will Be
Reinstated

Murthy Lyons and Edward
Gill Given Hearing by
Public Service Board

Threatened internal trouble in the department of ashes and waste collection was averted by the board of public service last night when they suggested the reinstatement of two men, Murthy Lyons and Edward Gill, who quit their jobs three days ago on being changed from alley cleaning to regular collection.

The men were given a hearing by the board and Superintendent Michael H. Harrington said they had refused to do the work to which he had assigned them, had left their jobs and he desired two extra drivers to take their places. It was deemed the better part of wisdom to have the men return to work and it was suggested by Chairman Dennis J. Murphy.

This hearing and the appearance before the board of a committee from the municipal employees' union on the matter of summer vacations were the only deviations from a routine session that lasted nearly two hours, most of which time was taken up with hearings on petitions for street, sewer and sidewalk improvements.

Action was taken on the following petitions: Ernest C. Clark, edgeworker and sewer, 15 Mary-land avenue, granted; Severin Beaudry et al., sewer in Vincent street, referred to city engineer; Pawtucketville Social club, concrete sidewalk on Gresham avenue from Moody to Bodwell street, granted; Clayton P. Nelson, edgeworker at 123 Methuen street, granted; William C. Gillin, concrete sidewalk at 73 R street, granted; Clive R. Blake, edgeworker and sewer, 15-34 McKinley avenue, granted; Alice S. Whelan, edgeworker at 121 Methuen street, granted; Amanda A. Capovilla, edgeworker at 57 Victoria street, granted; catch basin later; Avila Sawyer, edgeworker and concrete sidewalk on Mt. Grove street, granted; Abel R. Campbell et al., that Ruth street be laid out and accepted, that sidewalk and six-foot grass plot be laid on westerly side to conform to easterly side, plans and estimates to be requested; Joseph Desilets, curbstone on River-street, granted; Edgar Ledue, edgeworker and sewer sidewalk south side of Farmland road, granted; Madeline T. Welch, sewer in Rogers street, extended from 46 1/2 to Halpin avenue, granted; John Scott, sewer in Stevens street from Worcester to Jennings, granted; E. W. Douglas, sewer be laid to drain land in Andover street, plans and estimates requested; James Thomas, cement sidewalk in front of 46-50 Lewis street, referred to city engineer; as to who shall pay for same; James Durand, sewer in South Wilder street, 160 feet, long, referred to city engineer; Joseph Bellemare, sewer in Waverly street and Colonial avenue, plans and estimates to be submitted.

The committee of the Municipal Employees' union submitted a report for vacation periods as usual, preferably during the months of July and August. At a previous meeting the board voted to defer all vacations until later in the year because of so much work on hand at this time. Mr. Leary moved the previous vote of the board be rescinded, but it failed of a second and the matter remains as before. The committee also made request for motor truck transportation to and from water works pumping station on the boulevard. Employees now have to walk two miles each way. The board took it under advisement.

Daniel Moynihan, president of the union, spoke of several "sparrow" men who have been referred to construction gangs and asked they be given back their old jobs. In many cases those men are too old for construction work, he said. Mr. Murphy asked Secretary John F. Donnelly of the union to prepare a list of such men so that action may be taken on the request at a later meeting.

Mr. Murphy was the prime mover in action to ask the mayor to notify the Lowell Gas Light Co. that it is not living up to its contract with the city in the matter of placing street signs on its corner lights.

ANOTHER GREEK CHURCH

Annunciation Greek Orthodox Community Outlines
Plans for New Church

If plans outlined at a meeting held last evening at 485 Market street are carried out, Lowell will soon have another Greek Orthodox church. Just where the new church will be located has not been determined, but Thomas Noulas, a local attorney, has been instructed to prepare bonds, which will be issued by the new community to its members, and as soon as the money is realized a site will be purchased.

The movement for a new church is not new, as it was started last year and as a matter of fact the organization has already received its charter of incorporation from the secretary of state. No efforts have been made recently to promote the new community, but a few days ago the incorporators of the new corporation, which will be known as the Annunciation Greek Orthodox community or Lowell, have again stimulated the project and that the members of the new community will soon be able to worship in their own church.

The community of the Annunciation was founded last year by a group of members of the Holy Trinity Greek Orthodox community after seceding from the old church. The incorporators were then known as "Kontakides," but since that time, it is said, many Royalists have joined the new group and the church is to be conducted on church principles only; all politics will be eliminated. As soon as a church building is secured the community will apply to the representatives of the Holy Synod of Greece and the Holy Synod of Constantinople in this country for clerical services and the services will be according to the Greek Orthodox ritual.

The establishment of the new church is now in the hands of a committee composed as follows: Emmanuel Kakkes, chairman; Nicholas Fotopis, George Pasteras, Constantine Doros and George Malliaros. Instead of having a board of directors of 21, a school committee of five, three auditors, a president, secretary and treasurer as the Holy Trinity community, the new community plans to leave the community matters in the hands of a committee of five to be known as deacons. The plans are, it is said, to conduct the church on American principles, and thus avoid political conflicts, which heretofore have been very common in the old community.

Speaking about the plans of the committee this morning, Mr. Noulas said an endeavor will be made to raise $10,000 by means of bonds and as soon as the money is realized a church building will be purchased. "There will be no party restrictions in the church," said Mr. Noulas, "for Royalists, Venizelists and others will be welcomed to worship with us. Ours will be a church and not a political organization."

TESTIMONIAL DINNER FOR HUGH J. MOLLOY

The Company G Associates, Massachusetts State Guard, will give a testimonial dinner to Hugh J. Molloy, superintendent of schools in this city, on June 26th in Liberty hall.

The occasion for the testimonial is that this month Mr. Molloy completed 30 years as a teacher, and the members of the association feel that a testimonial banquet is the least they can do to show their appreciation of his work.

While plans for the affair are not complete, Edward W. Daly, president of the organization, said today that he expected to have Congressman John Rogers as toastmaster, and the superintendent of schools in Boston, a member of the state board of education, and Rev. F. Hickey, head of the parochial school in the Boston diocese as speakers.

Invitations of the association and their members and any others who wish to attend the affair may do so by notifying Mr. Daly of their intention on or before Wednesday, June 27.

HIGH SCHOOL ALUMNI ASSOCIATION REUNION

The fifth annual reunion of the Lowell High School Alumni association will be held at the high school on the evening of June 23, beginning at 7 o'clock.

In addition to the reunion of the association, a reception to the high school graduating class of 1923 will also be held with the graduating class as the guests of the occasion.

The program as now arranged is as follows: Class reunions and receptions in the various classes and lecture rooms from 7 to 8 o'clock; general exercises in the Cyrus W. Cohurn hall, bridge games will be in order in the library, and refreshments will be obtainable in the new lunch room.

The association is now 14 years old and has accomplished a great deal of work. Plans for the future call for a bigger association so that more work can be done. It is expected that the annual reunion will be the biggest in the history of the association and that many more members will be added to the roll on that occasion.

CLOSING OF SUPERIOR COURT SESSION

The 12 weeks session of superior civil court was brought to a close today, Judge Sisk listening to several motions on questions of law.

Yesterday afternoon the jury returned a verdict for the defendant in the case of Theodore Thomas of Lowell vs. the Eastern Massachusetts St. Railway Co. This was an action to recover damages for injury to a truck which the plaintiff claimed was struck by a one-man car on Main street in Woburn, due to alleged negligence on the part of the motorman. The defence claimed that the driver of the truck was not exercising due care. Attorney Fred Wier conducted the defence.

The jury was out for about three hours when word was sent to the court that no agreement could be reached. The vote stood 5 to 4, it was understood. The jury was then brought in and given further instructions by the court. After retiring for the second time the 12 men quickly came to an agreement.

In discharging the members of the jury yesterday Judge Sisk complimented them upon their work and the fact that not a single disagreement was reported during the entire sitting. The court also paid a compliment to the attorneys.

8 o'clock, including five-minute addresses by prominent alumni and the presentation of an oil portrait of the late headmaster, Cyrus W. Irish, from 8 to 11.30 o'clock there will be dancing and a general good time in Frank P. Cohurn hall, bridge games will be in order in the library, and refreshments will be obtainable in the new lunch room.

The association is now 14 years old and has accomplished a great deal of work. Plans for the future call for a bigger association so that more work can be done. It is expected that the annual reunion will be the biggest in the history of the association and that many more members will be added to the roll on that occasion.

FOREIGN WAR VETERANS LOWELL DISTRICT COURT

Financial Support Needed to
Here Next Year

Commander David F. Caddell of the Walker-Rogers post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars is endeavoring to secure the financial support of the city council and other organizations in the city, to finance the holding of the fourth annual state convention of the veterans in Lowell next year. "Boston contributed $5,000 for the convention and $500 additional was added for fireworks at Charlestown on Bunker Hill day," states Commander Caddell.

A campaign has been started to increase the number of posts to 100 before the next convention. The executive committee of the Veterans of Foreign Wars is desirous of holding the convention in Lowell, as it believes the Memorial Auditorium to be the ideal building in Massachusetts, which fills the needs of a big convention of veterans. If the Walker-Rogers post is assured of proper financial support for this convention, it will be brought here," continued Mr. Caddell.

The Lowell post has no funds available for the proper entertainment of such a number of delegates, and it is necessary that assistance be obtained from the people who would benefit from such a gathering.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars organization is made up of veterans who were overseas during the World War.

Larceny Charge is Taken
Under Consideration Till
Tomorrow—Other Cases

Intimating that the government had not proved beyond a reasonable doubt, the guilt of Frank Cutler, charged with the larceny of $50 from Frank Mahoney, the case was taken under consideration until tomorrow by Judge Bright in the district court this morning. Cutler, it is alleged, entered into an agreement with the complainant to sell four Spitz puppies and compensate him in the sum of $50. Cutler claimed the puppies died of distemper before a sale could be made.

Simon Krancianes, on a first offence for illegal keeping, paid a fine of $100. Henry Wooly, arrested on Mammoth road by Motorcycle Officer Charles Hamilton, for speeding and failure to give the proper signals, was fined $10 on each count.

A fine of $15 was imposed on Samuel Burns on a finding of guilty to a charge of drunkenness. He was given a week to pay. For a like offence, a sentence of six months in the house of correction, suspended for two years, was imposed on Kostas Kallio, Clarence Sibley, charged with drunkenness and assault and battery on his wife, was continued in $700 until tomorrow.

HAS NEW MANIFOLD FOR GAS ENGINES

How to operate a Ford car for 38 to 42 miles on a gallon of gasoline was demonstrated today by Philip Samuels, 32 Lane street, who recently received a patent on a new manifold for gas engines. The demonstration was given this forenoon for the benefit of Harry C. Glaesche, representing Mayor John J. Donovan and the car performed just as its owner said it would.

The invention of Mr. Samuels eliminates all carbon, uses up all liquid gas in explosion and prevents any gas creeping by the piston rings. He has subjected the manifold to the most severe tests and never has failed to run his per gallon mileage to at least 38 miles and even has gone as high as 42 miles over good roads.

Although the invention to date has been demonstrated only on Ford machines, it is attachable to any make of car and is guaranteed to increase mileage proportionally.
